Ford Strike in Second Day

Serious Talks A Month Off, UAW Predicts

DETROIT (AP)—A top official of the United Auto Workers Union predicted today that a nationwide strike against the Ford Motor Co. probably will continue for at least a month before serious bargaining resumes on a new labor contract.

Emil Mazey, UAW secretary treasurer, said he did not expect negotiations to become meaningful until Ford depletes its inventory of 1968 and 1967 model cars.

The walkout by some 160,000 workers has virtually halted production of all Ford cars. Only a few Falcons and pickup trucks continue to roll off assembly lines in Canada.

Mazey said he did not think there will be pressure to end the strike until Ford begins to run out of cars now in dealers' showrooms.

Ford's chief competitors—General Motors and Chrysler—meanwhile are continuing full production of their 1968 models even though their contracts with the UAW expired Wednesday midnight at the same time Ford workers went on strike.

No new Ford negotiations are planned although a subcommittee meeting is scheduled for Monday to work out a schedule for further bargaining.

On the basic wage offer alone both sides appear miles apart.

Referring to the Big Three proposal of Aug. 29, one top union negotiator said, "We could have gotten that same amount if we simply extended or renewed the present agreement."

The company says it has no immediate plans for making a new offer.

Although the strike may force production cutbacks in such automotive suppliers as the steel and rubber industries, the chance of government intervention appears slight at this point.

The federal government has never invoked the Taft-Hartley Act to halt an auto strike. Ford has only one major defense contract, a $91.4 million one for 42,000 Jeeps from the firm's Highland Park, Mich., plant. A company spokesman said the government does not consider this production critical.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, led Ford workers off the job for what he calls "the longest and most ambitious list

Romney, McNamara Clashing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara called George Romney a man apparently "blind to the truth"—and one Republican saw the administration assault as a potential political favor for the Michigan governor.

"I suppose this could only help him, really, especially coming from McNamara," said Iowa GOP Chairman Robert D. Ray after the Pentagon attack Thursday on Romney.

Romney, in Portland, Ore., told newsmen Thursday night he would be delighted to compare his record on Vietnam with McNamara's. "I think the American people are hungry for people to say what they think," he said.

And in a speech to a Republican fund-raising dinner there, Romney described "the administration credibility gap" as a "national embarrassment."

McNamara's attack came as Romney, an unannounced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, faced criticism within his own party for asserting the administration brainwashed him in 1965 into declaring U.S. involvement in Vietnam was morally right.

He now calls the involvement a tragic error.

A top supporter of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon—now rated Romney's chief rival for the nomination in 1968—called the assertion evidence of Romney weakness in dealing with issues.

Former Oklahoma Gov. Henry Bellmon said Thursday that would be very damaging in a presidential campaign.

McNamara told a news conference Romney "appears to be blind to the truth. I don't think Gov. Romney can recognize the truth when he sees it."

Ray said of McNamara: "If I had to pick my enemies, I'd want him for one." He said the administration assault could muffle criticism of Romney within his own party.

Romney comes to Washington later today to talk with Republican national committeemen meeting in a two-day session expected to formally approve Miami Beach for the party's 1968 national convention.

Neither Nixon nor Romney has declared himself a candidate for the nomination that will be awarded there next year.

U.S., Hanoi Still Dispute Treatment of Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say Hanoi has rebuffed repeated attempts to gain freedom—or at least Geneva Convention protection—for American prisoners of war.

Some 700 U.S. servicemen are listed as missing in North and South Vietnam. At least 200 are believed to be prisoners of the Reds.

Washington efforts on behalf of the captives have been made through the International Committee of the Red Cross and other channels, but to no avail so far.

North Vietnam claims the prisoners are war criminals, although it says they are getting humane treatment.

But the United States is not accepting such statements on prisoner conditions in the absence of verification by an outside body such as the Red Cross. Hanoi has not allowed Red Cross access to its prisoner camps.

A recent U.S. review of available information reported "increasing indications of deliberate mistreatment of prisoners."

Under the 1949 Geneva Convention on the treatment of prisoners of war, to which North and South Vietnam are all parties, prisoners "must at all times be humanely treated." It sets food, clothing, shelter and medical care standards, and provides for access to them by an outside group.

American 'Wall' To Split Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chemical soil-killers will be used in South Vietnam warfare for the first time under the Pentagon's new plan to create a barrier against infiltrating North Vietnamese troops.

The Pentagon said earth-poisoning agents will be sprayed over the cleared barrier zone atop South Vietnam to prevent jungle growth from returning and providing concealment for invading Communists.

Introduction of the sterlants will add a new dimension—and perhaps a controversial one—to an already wide-ranging chemical program aimed at wiping out vegetation including crops in certain areas of South Vietnam.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced plans Thursday for the barrier—actually an early-warning zone sown with mines and electronic eyes and ears. He elaborated little about its operation.

Confirmation of the long-mooted move came at a news conference at which McNamara labeled Michigan Gov. George Romney, a Republican presidential hopeful, as "blind to the truth" in accusing the Johnson Administration of misleading the public about the war.

McNamara also announced: "The remaining two brigades of the 101st Airborne Division will be among the additional 45,000 men destined for the war zone by June 30.

A new Army division, the 6th Infantry, is being created in January to offset troop deployments from trained troops based in the United States.

The Pentagon's opening-housing program will be spread nationwide to end what he called "a shameful story of discrimination" against Negro servicemen. Housing sites near military bases which refuse to admit Negro servicemen will be placed off limits to all military men in those areas.

McNamara bared few details about the proposed infiltration barrier other than to say its components would range "from barbed wire to highly sophisticated devices."

The idea is not to block the southward flow of enemy troops—McNamara said that

No-Trade Policy Hit By Banker

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the Export-Import Bank told Congress the United States will have few customers for its exports if it cuts off countries that trade with North Vietnam.

Despite that opinion given a House Appropriations subcommittee March 20 in previously secret testimony released today, the Senate wrote stiff restrictions Aug. 23 into a bill extending the charter of the bank. The bill now awaits House action.

Harold F. Linder, president of the government bank that assists U.S. exports with loans and guarantees, was asked his opinion about trading with Communist countries, and countries supplying North Vietnam.

"I think, sir, if we took all the countries that are trading with North Vietnam, no matter how small their trade may be, out of our list of those people who were eligible to get credit in connection with business which they did with the United States, we would have very few customers," Linder replied.

Lema Interests Sue Plane Firm

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Federal court records disclosed Thursday that two damage suits for more than $3 million have been filed against an Illinois air charter service over the death of professional golfer Tony Lema.

Lema and his wife were killed in July 1966 when a private plane crashed near Munster, Ind. They were en route from Akron, Ohio, to Lynwood, Ill.

The First National Bank in Dallas, as executor of the Lema estate, brought the suits against Joliet Air Charter Service, Inc., and Mainline Aviation, Inc., of Joliet, Ill.

Strikes by Teachers May Affect 2 Million

Youngstown Police, Fire Forces Out

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Anthony B. Flak, his request for National Guard troops rejected, turned today to legal steps aimed at ending a walkout by city police and firemen.

Youngstown's mayor, a Democrat, asked Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes Thursday for National Guard help to "meet the safety requirements" of the city. After being told no, Flak said the city would seek a court injunction today ordering the men back to work.

City officials said the injunction request was a temporary measure to halt the walkout that has left police and fire-fighting forces critically short. The issue is more money.

Almost two-thirds of the police force remained off duty Thursday and practically the entire Fire Department.

Flak declared a state of emergency Thursday and asked Rhodes to rush guard troops.

The governor turned him down, and his administrative assistant, John McElroy, told Flak by telephone, "It appears from present information that Youngstown city officials have not exhausted all resources and legal procedures available to them."

However, McElroy said a liaison officer is watching the situation in this city of 170,000 and will advise the governor's office if help is needed.

City hall declined comment on the governor's refusal.

Legal procedures still open to city officials include invoking the state's Ferguson Act, which forbids strikes by public employees, and court injunction, McElroy said.

Police protection was drastically reduced and by Thursday night only one fire station out of 15 was manned as members of the safety forces continued a LATE Wednesday night.

Fourteen fire stations were closed and seven firemen were on duty at the No. 1 downtown station.

More Talk Due Today On Abortion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roman Catholics attending the International Conference on Abortion are making overtures for Protestant support of their efforts to prevent liberalized abortion laws.

The conference, sponsored by Harvard Divinity School and the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, closes today with a round of open sessions at which panelists will report on their discussion of the legal, religious, medical and sociological aspects of abortion.

Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, is to address the conference's closing session.

Participant who have taken part in news briefings agree a major benefit of the conference has been increased knowledge of abortion and various opinions concerning it.

The Rev. Robert F. Drinan, dean of the Boston College Law School, said Thursday the conference has uncovered "significant and profound Protestant thought" that opposes abortion as strongly as does the Roman Catholic Church.

Pope Paul Improves, Resumes Some Work

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican announced today that Pope Paul's temperature remained normal and after a tranquil night he had resumed work on pressing church business. An official bulletin at midday gave no indication when the Pope's audiences, canceled Monday after he came down with a cold, stomach cramp, and nausea, would be resumed.

Thieu-Ky Feud Erupting Again

SAIGON (AP)—Bolstered by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's failure to win control of South Vietnam's new senate, President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu made plain today that he intends to be No. 1 in fact as well as name in his country's new government.

The chief of state refused to appear on a U. S. television program with his vice president-elect, bringing into the open the long-smoldering feud between the two victorious running mates in Sunday's presidential election.

Thieu appeared for the taping today of the National Broadcasting Company's "Meet the Press" program, but only after telling NBC officials he would appear alone or not at all. NBC originally had invited Thieu and Ky together and said both camps agreed two weeks ago that both men would appear. The program was to have been taped Thursday morning but Thieu backed out at the last minute, saying through a spokesman he had not been properly informed.

After a day of consultations, it was agreed that Thieu and Ky would appear together this morning, but late Thursday night Thieu changed his mind and said he would only appear alone. A spokesman for Ky told NBC the premier had decided to step aside.

The original plan for the program had called for the four American newsmen on the program's panel to alternate their questions between Thieu and Ky.

The program will be broadcast in the United States Sunday.

The forced political marriage of the two military leaders on the same ticket was an uneasy one. Both men had announced their intention of running for president, and their quest for support was threatening a split in the armed forces.

After receiving assurances from Thieu of strong power as vice president, Ky agreed on June 30 to take the second spot on Thieu's ticket.

Thieu made no move to assert his position as No. 1 until it became apparent that Ky had failed to pull into office with him any of the several senate slates he supported. The senate has a strong Roman Catholic bloc which Thieu—a Catholic—apparently feels is to his advantage. The question of face in the relationship between the two men always has been important to Thieu. As chief of state and technically the superior of the premier, Thieu was said to be constantly annoyed when newsmen and foreign visitors usually paid more attention to the flamboyant, better known Ky.

Roundtown

GOOD school bus safety is a combination of good cooperation and understanding from the motorist, the school child, his parents and the school bus driver, Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said today.

The sheriff says his office has received a number of complaints of people passing school buses. He urged motorists to observe the law which states that a car must be stopped at least 10 feet from the school bus and may not proceed until the school bus resumes motion or until signalled by the driver of the bus to proceed.

RECORDS at the Pickaway County Court House today revealed the transfer of the E. Franklin St. property of the late Miss Helen Hirt to the Circleville Parking Lot Corp. Plans are to raze the last remaining dwelling of the city's original circle in order to extend the present city parking lot. Demolition should start soon since the corporation hopes to have the facilities of the enlarged parking lot available by Pumpkin Show time.

U.S. Toll: 115 Dead, 382 Hurt

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam claimed today that more than 500 civilians were killed and some 1,100 wounded by U.S. forces, mostly aircraft, in assaults in North Vietnam during the first six months of 1967.

Hanoi's official Vietnam news agency made the claim in a long communique from its "commission for investigation of U.S. Imperialists' War Crimes in Vietnam."

It said the United States has "increased its attacks with an ever greater quantity of bombs and shells," dropping on North Vietnam "68,000 tons in February and 77,000 tons in March." Since then, it said, "attacks have become more and more violent, bombs and shells have been used in greater and greater quantity."

Baltimore, New York Threatened

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unrest in the ranks of the nation's teachers widened today as the Baltimore school system was threatened with a strike. Detroit teachers remained out and New York City schools braced for a threatened mass resignation Monday.

More than 600,000 youngsters were already enjoying extended summer vacations in Michigan, Broward County, Fla., East St. Louis, Ill., and McCracken County, Ky. Strikes in Baltimore and New York could add nearly 1.3 million to that total.

The Baltimore teachers union said a strike could occur before the end of next week after negotiations with school officials broke down Thursday over bargaining procedures and non-teaching duties.

The union representing 8,000 teachers said classes would open Monday as scheduled but warned that the city's more than 194,000 pupils might be back out in the parks and playgrounds before the end of the week. A membership meeting was called for Tuesday.

In Michigan, pickets continued to march in many of the 30 school districts where contracts

Gun Charge Hearing Set For Brown

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Authorities enforced tough security precautions today for the scheduled arraignment of militant Negro leader H. Rap Brown on a federal gun charge.

Sources at the Wild Life and Fisheries Commission building, where the U.S. commissioner's office is located, said armed guards would be posted on the roof.

Every door in the big granite building would be locked and Brown could leave and enter only through the one on Royal Street, officials said.

Attorneys indicated the arraignment would be a simple procedure, lasting only about 15 minutes, and Brown would be advised of his constitutional rights and asked to state his plea. On a plea of innocent, Brown would continue his freedom under $15,000 bond and trial would be set at a later date, they said.

12,000 Still Strike at Frigidaire

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A strike by 12,000 workers at two General Motors Frigidaire Division plants went into its second day today with both sides professing readiness to negotiate.

Vernon Lewis, industrial relations manager for Frigidaire, said he would propose a meeting this morning with the Electrical Workers Union.

Joseph Shump, president of local 801, said the union had several hundred grievances to present and "we are ready to sit down and talk with them at any time."

The plants were shut down at midnight Wednesday when workers staged a surprise walkout after expiration of their three-year contract.

Only maintenance crews were reported at work today in the plants, which manufacture refrigeration and air conditioning units, ranges and other household equipment.

U.S. Bombs Killed 500, Hanoi Says

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines combed the jungles and paddy fields for Communist troops in South Vietnam's northern war zone today after turning the tables on a Red ambush and killing 92 of the enemy.

Far to the south, in the Mekong delta, South Vietnamese reported killing 54 members of the Viet Cong's Tay Do battalion, one of the most seasoned Red units in the delta.

Several big Marine sweeps were under way in the northern provinces where nearly 700 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have been reported killed in hard fighting since Monday around Tam Ky, on the coast, and below the demilitarized zone some 140 miles to the northwest.

American casualties in the area total 115 dead and 382 wounded so far this week, the U.S. Command said.

Although no significant action was reported from the area since Thursday, the Strategic Air Command kept up two-day raids by its high-altitude B52 bombers to aid the Marines.

are yet to be signed. Nearly half a million youngsters in 17 districts—including 300,000 in Detroit—remained locked out of their classrooms.

Both teachers and school officials awaited a state court of appeals hearing Saturday on whether circuit courts can grant injunctions to force teachers without contracts back into the schools.

Brezhnev Hits Chinese Purge

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Leonid I. Brezhnev expressed conviction Thursday of the ultimate failure of Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution purge, which he said has wrecked the Chinese government and Communist party.

"We are convinced that the cause of socialism will ultimately triumph in China," the Soviet Communist party chief told a rally after Hungary and the Soviet Union renewed the friendship agreement they signed in 1948. The two nations declared that frontiers developed after World War II are inviolate and pledged every measure to repel any attempt by West Germany to change them.

U.S.-Soviet Relations Bad - Taft

CINCINNATI (AP)—After an eight-day "fact-finding" tour of the Soviet Union, Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, does not believe improvement of United States-Soviet relations is eminent.

"The current political climate for improving relations is very, very cool," the congressman from Cincinnati said here Thursday.

He added that the Russians think the United States' position in Vietnam is unjustified and "in no case" did there appear to be any understanding of policy dealing with the Far East or Middle East.

"Our policies seemed to be viewed as dominated by colonialism and by economic royalties seeking to exploit underdeveloped nations," Taft said.

Taft gave this impression of the tour, concerned mainly with Soviet domestic affairs, at a news conference.

He said Soviet officials greeted him and other members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee with "coolness" and "seemed intent to hamper achievement of our goals exploring Soviet attitudes on the cold war, Vietnam, the Near East, on trade and religious freedom" there.

Britain's Chichester Honored by Italians

SAN REMO, Italy (AP)—Britain's Sir Francis Chichester was saluted Thursday for his seafaring exploits. There were thousands of spectators, an honor guard, a band and a local award for courage.

He was presented the Polena della Bravura—figurehead of bravery—for his solo voyage around the world in the yacht Gipsy Moth IV. Chichester completed the voyage in May.

Homemakers To Meet

The Pickaway County Homemakers Extension Club will hold its Home Council and Leader Training meeting Monday, 12:30 p.m. in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

of demands" the union has yet sought.

Since both Chrysler and General Motors refused union requests to extend current contracts, union members at the two firms are working, reluctantly, without a contract.

If and when a contract is reached at Ford, the union will use it as a pattern for a settlement at the other two companies.

Union pickets patrolled Ford plants throughout the country with no incidents reported.

Ford says its workers will be losing $5.2 million wages for every day they stay out.

The company will be losing its average daily production of 8,000 cars, 1,800 trucks and 144 tractors.

Ford dealers throughout the country have enough new cars to last a month, 85,000 1968 models and 175,000 1967 models, the company said.

The union is backing its strike with a $67-million fund which will be distributed at the rate of $20 to $30 a week to each striker depending upon marital status and number of dependents.

Some union members are talking of a long strike.

"When we left on the midnight shift last night, our foreman was saying, 'See you at Christmas' or 'See you after New Year's Day,'" said Leamont Johnson, a 22-year-old worker at Ford's Louisville, Ky., plant.

The union is demanding a substantial wage increase, payment of a monthly salary as the basis of a guaranteed annual income, equal pay for Canadian and American workers and improvement of pension programs.

The average worker now makes $3.41 an hour in wages or $4.70 an hour including fringe benefits.

The companies have offered to boost wages by 13 cents the first year of a three-year contract and to increase them by 2.8 per cent each successive year.

If extended completely across South Vietnam below the so-called Demilitarized Zone, the trip-wire zone would be more than 40 miles wide.

McNamara refused to say whether it would also cut across Laos through the jungle network of roads that make up the Ho Chi Minh trail, used by Hanoi to get men into South Vietnam.

Opponents of the barrier concept have said if the strip lies only in South Vietnam, the North Vietnamese will be able to make an "end-around" play to infiltrate the South.

Work already is under way to clear jungle from a stretch approximately 15 miles wide and 600 yards deep below the Demilitarized Zone.

The soil poisoners are to be used because military commanders have found that thriving vegetation starts growing back almost as quickly as bulldozers clear a strip.

In response to questions, the Pentagon said commercial farm chemicals developed and produced in the United States for such work as clearing railroad rights of way will be used on the strip. Specifically mentioned were two agents called chlorophenyl dimethyl urea and diisopropenyl dimethyl urea.

The Pentagon said the chemicals won't harm animals or people but will prevent plant life for about a year.

Guy Buskirk, a prisoner in the Pickaway County Jail, attempted to set fire to his mattress during the night, it was reported by Sheriff Dwight Radcliff today.

Buskirk pulled cotton batting from the mattress and tried to ignite it.

Ohio Crops Progressing Chief Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's corn, bean, and tomato crops appear to be in "pretty good" shape, according to State Agricultural Director John Stackhouse.

Stackhouse said Thursday isolated areas may suffer from lack of rainfall, but not enough to warrant the situation being called a drought.

Central Ohio has suffered a 3.2 inch deficiency in rainfall, with the deficit extending to most other parts of the state, Stackhouse said.

Agriculture officials said cool weather has had more effect upon crops than light rainfall. Lower than normal temperatures has pushed the tomato crop harvest in Northwestern Ohio back as much as two weeks, they added.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Skies were clear over Ohio this morning with temperatures in the upper 50s and lower 60s. Mostly sunny and warmer weather was expected in Ohio again today, except for the chance of showers in the extreme southwest in the late afternoon.

Cloudiness will be increasing over the state tonight, with a chance of showers south.

Skies will remain cloudy Saturday and there is a chance of scattered showers.

Surveyor 5 Is Launched; Moon Landing Set Sunday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Riding into space on the most accurate moon rocket ever launched by the United States, Surveyor 5 raced today toward a lunar soft landing with a camera and a small chemistry lab to analyze the soil.

The mooncraft launching before dawn today climaxed a spectacular space doubleheader

Two Injured In Accident

Two persons were injured slightly in an accident that occurred 10:30 p.m. Thursday on the Crownover Mill Road near its intersection with the Dublin Hill Road.

Referred to a doctor were Shirley Donaldson, 18, and her daughter, Donna Lee Donaldson, 13-months, for treatment of shock and contusions.

Driver of the pickup truck involved was Donald C. Donaldson, 21, Mt. Sterling.

Donaldson told Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and Deputy James Lockard, investigating officers, that he lost control on the oil soaked roadway. The pickup truck was extensively damaged.

The driver was not cited. Deputy Sheriff Richard Clark investigated an auto accident two miles north of Circleville on Route 23 at 2:20 a.m. Friday in which no one was injured.

Drivers of the vehicles involved were Curtis R. Kempton, 27, Route 1, and James William Fleming, 27, Clintwood, Va.

Kempton's pickup was heavily damaged. Fleming was operating a commercial tractor-trailer truck. It sustained moderate damage.

Lass Listed As 'Serious'

Rhonda Raymond, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Raymond, Ringgold, was listed in serious condition Friday at noon by authorities at Children's Hospital, Columbus.

Rhonda was struck by a car in Ringgold Wednesday evening, sustaining head and internal injuries and fractures of both legs.

She is still in the intensive care ward at the hospital.

Municipal Court Has Light Docket

Circleville Municipal Court handled a light docket Thursday, processing only seven court cases.

Richard Beadle, 37, Ashville, was cited by city police for speeding 49 miles in a 35 mile zone and was fined $15 and costs by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb.

Kenneth Rider, 109 Pontius Lane, was charged by city police for speeding 45 miles in a 35 zone. He pleaded guilty before Judge Lamb and was fined $10 plus costs.

Janice Harber, 19, Route 3, was charged by the city police with driving 43 miles in a 35 zone and forfeited $19 bond.

Garland Stonerock, 31, of 368 Woodland, forfeited a $19 bond for driving 44 miles in a 35 zone.

Terry Hanley, 20, Route 1, Ashville, forfeited a $19 bond when he was clocked by the city police driving 42 miles in a 35 zone.

The Municipal Court also collected $48 from out-of-county motorists.

that started Thursday night with the orbiting of millions of "astrobugs" and plants in a biomedical laboratory named Biosatellite 2.

Spider-shaped Surveyor 5 started its intended 65-hour, 221,375-mile lunar journey aboard an Atlas-Centaur rocket that blazed away from Cape Kennedy at 3:57 a.m. EDT.

Several hours later, the flight control center at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, Pasadena, Calif., reported the craft was on a near-perfect course that was only 37 miles off its target point in the Sea of Tranquility.

That's the most accurate shooting yet in 27 American moon landings.

"We're on a real good course that will require only a small midcourse motor correction to hit the aiming point," a project official said. He added that all systems aboard the craft were working well.

The moon vehicle is to settle gently onto the moon's surface Sunday night to investigate a potential astronaut landing site with a camera and a miniature chemistry lab that may, for the first time, tell scientists what elements are present in the lunar soil.

The planned touchdown area is in the Sea of Tranquility 24 miles from the Crater Moltke.

The two-shot spectacular started at 6:04 p.m. Thursday when Biosatellite 2 and its cargo of more than 10 million insects, plants and bacteria rode a Delta rocket into an orbit about 200 miles above the earth.

Roundtown Players To Meet Monday

Roundtown Players of Pickaway County will meet 8 p.m. Monday in the parish house of St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

The regular September meeting, scheduled the first Monday was delayed a week due to the Labor Day Holiday.

A main item on the evening's agenda will be a discussion of a date for the group's next production. Members are urged to attend to take part in the decision.

Union Vote Sept. 14 At Chillicothe Mead

CINCINNATI (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board set Sept. 14 today as the date for a collective bargaining election among 75 clerical employees of the Chillicothe Division of the Mead Corp.

They will vote on whether to be represented by Local 422 of the Office and Professional Employees Union (AFL-CIO).

Revival Scheduled

Revival will be held at the Circleville Church of God, Sept. 10 - 24.

The minister will be Evangelist Lucy Helton from the Hawaiian Islands.

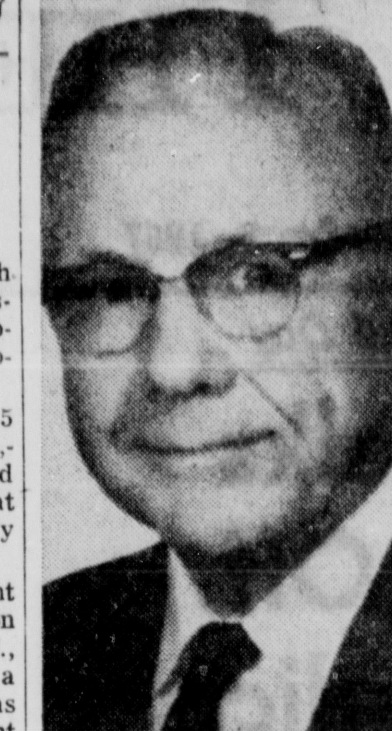

Mrs. Helton has over 20 years of evangelistic experience. She and her daughter will sing each night in the manner of native Hawaiians.

The youth choir from the local church will present songs each evening under the direction of Miss Darlene Varnell.

Services will begin 7:30 each evening. The pastor, Rev. R. J. Varnell, extends a welcome to anyone interested in attending.

CFD Soaks Grass Fire

The Circleville Fire Department was called to Hawthorne Road 3:38 p.m. yesterday, when a field, owned by Jack Miller, Route 3, caught on fire. Cause of the blaze is undetermined, according to a fire department spokesman.

AMOS HENRY

CBC Adds Professor To Staff

Circleville Bible College announced today that Professor Amos Henry, Th.B., M.A. has been added to the faculty this year.

Henry comes to the college well prepared to teach in the fields of Bible and theology. A graduate of Cleveland Bible Institute (now Malone College), he holds a Master of Arts degree from John Carroll University and has done graduate study at both Winona Lake School of Theology and Western Reserve University. He is a member of the Wesleyan Theological Society and the Evangelical Theological Society.

By way of experience he brings to the college the maturity gained by 26 years of pastoral work in addition to teaching at Malone College, Canton, Ohio, since 1953.

It is additions such as this, as well as the program of the college in encouraging all of its teaching force to continue their graduate studies, that is lending stability and stature to the College's image. Its constant attempt to up-grade every academic area is paying off and making Circleville Bible College an attractive institution to any person seeking a higher education under Christian auspices, CBC officials said.

Judge Places Three Men On Probation

Three men indicted by the Pickaway County Grand Jury waived their rights to a trial and appeared in court, entering pleas of guilty.

All three were placed on probation by Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer.

David L. Holland Jr., Route 4, indicted for breaking and entering an uninhabited building and for grand larceny was placed on three years probation. A term of the probation was that he make restitution.

Lewis Calvin Lanthorn, and Junior Lewis Brown were both indicted for uttering and publishing a forged check. Both were placed on three years probation with the provision they make restitution of funds involved.

Carol Hawley and William McWhorter, both of Orient, appeared before Judge Ammer on a bill of information. Miss Hawley was charged with forgery and McWhorter with aiding and abetting the uttering and publishing of a forged check.

The judge continued both cases.

Church Consultation Held in Columbus

Mr. Dale DeLong, 580 Ridgewood Drive, and the Rev. Gerald Niswender, 425 S. Washington St., were among more than 2,000 persons attending the National Consultation on the Church in Community Life, held in Columbus Sept. 5 - 8.

Key decision makers from across the country considered the opportunities, plans, problems and hopes of churches in non-metropolitan society and were challenged to carry the ideas home for implementation.

The consultation was sponsored by 17 cooperating Protestant, Catholic and ecumenical organizations in cooperation with the Ohio State University.

are yet to be signed. Nearly half a million youngsters in 17 districts—including 300,000 in Detroit—remained locked out of their classrooms.

Both teachers and school officials awaited a state court of appeals hearing Saturday on whether circuit courts can grant injunctions to force teachers without contracts back into the schools.

A few youngsters picketed in Detroit. "We want the teachers to get their money, but we want to go back to school," said one high school girl. Mayor Jerome P. Cavanaugh ordered public swimming pools kept open and recreation leaders to stay on duty.

Some 2,000 members of the United Federation of Teachers delegate assembly in New York City voted overwhelmingly Thursday night to turn down a two-year, $125-million contract proposal and go ahead with a threatened mass resignation Monday.

The Board of Education's final offer must still be put to a general membership meeting for final action but union president Albert Shanker said, "I am confident the members will back the union leadership."

Meanwhile School Supt. Bernard Donovan directed 1,500 nonteaching members of the system who hold licenses to report to district offices Monday if the resignations occur.

Salary demands of the striking or strike-threatening teachers have ranged from $300 a year in Kentucky to $4,550 more annually after two years for top-scale New York teachers.

Opponents of the barrier concept have said if the strip lies only in South Vietnam, the North Vietnamese will be able to make an "end-around" play to infiltrate the South.

Work already is under way to clear jungle from a stretch approximately 15 miles wide and 600 yards deep below the Demilitarized Zone.

The soil poisoners are to be used because military commanders have found that thriving vegetation starts growing back almost as quickly as bulldozers clear a strip.

In response to questions, the Pentagon said commercial farm chemicals developed and produced in the United States for such work as clearing railroad rights of way will be used on the strip. Specifically mentioned were two agents called chlorophenyl dimethyl urea and dithiophenyl dimethyl urea. The Pentagon said the chemicals won't harm animals or people but will prevent plant life for about a year.

Buskirk pulled cotton batting from the mattress and tried to ignite it.

Ohio Crops Progressing Chief Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's corn, bean, and tomato crops appear to be in "pretty good" shape, according to State Agricultural Director John Stackhouse.

Stackhouse said Thursday isolated areas may suffer from lack of rainfall, but not enough to warrant the situation being called a drought.

Central Ohio has suffered a 3.2 inch deficiency in rainfall, with the deficit extending to most other parts of the state, Stackhouse said.

Agriculture officials said cool weather has had more effect upon crops than light rainfall. Lower than normal temperatures has pushed the tomato crop harvest in Northwestern Ohio back as much as two weeks, they added.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Skies were clear over Ohio this morning with temperatures in the upper 50s and lower 60s. Mostly sunny and warmer weather was expected in Ohio again today, except for the chance of showers in the extreme southwest in the late afternoon.

Cloudiness will be increasing over the state tonight, with a chance of showers south.

Skies will remain cloudy Saturday and there is a chance of scattered showers.

Humphrey To Speak To Catholic Group

CINCINNATI (AP)—Speeches by 60 international clergymen, educators and government officials, including Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, will highlight the Ohio Catholic Educational Convention here Sept. 28-30.

Convention chairman, the Rev. Herman Kenning, said about 15,000 teachers and administrators are expected to attend the biennial meeting.

Surveyor 5 Is Launched; Moon Landing Set Sunday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Riding into space on the most accurate moon rocket ever launched by the United States, Surveyor 5 raced today toward a lunar soft landing with a camera and a small chemistry lab to analyze the soil.

The mooncraft launching before dawn today climaxed a spectacular space doubleheader that started Thursday night with the orbiting of millions of "astrobugs" and plants in a biomedical laboratory named Biosatellite 2.

Spider-shaped Surveyor 5 started its intended 65-hour, 221,575-mile lunar journey aboard an Atlas-Centaur rocket that blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 3:57 a.m. EDT.

Several hours later, the flight control center at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, Pasadena, Calif., reported the craft was on a near-perfect course that was only 37 miles off its target point in the Sea of Tranquility.

That's the most accurate shooting yet in 27 American moon landings.

"We're on a real good course that will require only a small midcourse motor correction to hit the aiming point," a project official said. He added that all systems aboard the craft were working well.

The moon vehicle is to settle gently onto the moon's surface Sunday night to investigate a potential astronaut landing site with a camera and a miniature chemistry lab that may, for the first time, tell scientists what elements are present in the lunar soil.

The planned touchdown area is in the Sea of Tranquility 24 miles from the Crater Moltke.

The two-shot spectacular started at 6:04 p.m. Thursday when Biosatellite 2 and its cargo of more than 10 million insects, plants and bacteria rode a Delta rocket into an orbit about 200 miles above the earth.

The driver of the pickup truck involved was Donald C. Donaldson, 21, Mt. Sterling.

Donaldson told Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and Deputy James Lockard, investigating officers, that he lost control on the oil soaked roadway. The pickup truck was extensively damaged.

The driver was not cited. Deputy Sheriff Richard Clark investigated an auto accident two miles north of Circleville on Route 23 at 2:20 a.m. Friday in which no one was injured.

Drivers of the vehicles involved were Curtis R. Kempson, 27, Route 1, and James William Fleming, 27, Clintwood, Va.

Kempson's pickup was heavily damaged. Fleming was operating a commercial tractor-trailer truck. It sustained moderate damage.

Lass Listed As 'Serious'

Rhonda Raymond, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Raymond, Ringgold, was listed in serious condition Friday at noon by authorities at Children's Hospital, Columbus.

Rhonda was struck by a car in Ringgold Wednesday evening, sustaining head and internal injuries and fractures of both legs. She is still in the intensive care ward at the hospital.

Municipal Court Has Light Docket

Circleville Municipal Court handled a light docket Thursday, processing only seven court cases.

Richard Beadle, 37, Ashville, was cited by city police for speeding 49 miles in a 35 mile zone and was fined $15 and costs by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb.

Kenneth Rider, 109 Pontius Lane, was charged by city police for speeding 45 miles in a 35 zone. He pleaded guilty before Judge Lamb and was fined $10 plus costs.

Janice Harber, 19, Route 3, was charged by the city police with driving 43 miles in a 35 zone and forfeited $19 bond. Garland Stonerock, 31, of 368 Woodland, forfeited a $19 bond for driving 44 miles in a 35 zone.

Terry Hanley, 20, Route 1, Ashville, forfeited a $19 bond when he was clocked by the city police driving 42 miles in a 35 zone.

The Municipal Court also collected $48 from out-of-county motorists.

AMOS HENRY

CBC Adds Professor To Staff

Circleville Bible College announced today that Professor Amos Henry, Th.B., M.A. has been added to the faculty this year.

Henry comes to the college well prepared to teach in the fields of Bible and theology. A graduate of Cleveland Bible Institute (now Malone College), he holds a Master of Arts degree from John Carroll University and has done graduate study at both Winona Lake School of Theology and Western Reserve University. He is a member of the Wesleyan Theological Society and the Evangelical Theological Society.

By way of experience he brings to the college the maturity gained by 26 years of pastoral work in addition to teaching at Malone College, Canton, Ohio, since 1953.

It is additions such as this, as well as the program of the college in encouraging all of its teaching force to continue their graduate studies, that is lending stability and stature to the College's image. Its constant attempt to up - grade every academic area is paying off and making Circleville Bible College an attractive institution to any person seeking a higher education under Christian auspices, CBC officials said.

Roundtown Players of Pickaway County will meet 8 p.m. Monday in the parish house of St. Phillip's Episcopal Church.

The regular September meeting, scheduled the first Monday was delayed a week due to the Labor Day Holiday.

A main item on the evening's agenda will be a discussion of a date for the group's next production. Members are urged to attend to take part in the decision.

Union Vote Sept. 14

At Chillicothe Mead

CINCINNATI (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board set Sept. 14 today as the date for a collective bargaining election among 75 clerical employees of the Chillicothe Division of the Mead Corp.

They will vote on whether to be represented by Local 422 of the Office and Professional Employees Union (AFL-CIO).

Revival Scheduled

Revival will be held at the Circleville Church of God, Sept. 10 - 24.

The minister will be Evangelist Lucy Helton from the Hawaiian Islands.

Mrs. Helton has over 20 years of evangelistic experience. She and her daughter will sing each night in the manner of native Hawaiians.

The youth choir from the local church will present songs each evening under the direction of Miss Darlene Varnell.

Services will begin 7:30 each evening. The pastor, Rev. R. J. Varnell, extends a welcome to anyone interested in attending.

The Circleville Fire Department was called to Hawthorne Road 3:38 p. m. yesterday, when a field, owned by Jack Miller, Route 3, caught on fire. Cause of the blaze is undetermined, according to a fire department spokesman.

Judge Places Three Men On Probation

Three men indicted by the Pickaway County Grand Jury waived their rights to a trial and appeared in court, entering pleas of guilty.

All three were placed on probation by Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer.

David L. Holland Jr., Route 4, indicted for breaking and entering an uninhabited building and for grand larceny was placed on three years probation. A term of the probation was that he make restitution.

Lewis Calvin Lanthorn, and Junior Lewis Brown were both indicted for uttering and publishing a forged check. Both were placed on three years probation with the provision they make restitution of funds involved.

Carol Hawley and William McWhorter, both of Orient, appeared before Judge Ammer on a bill of information. Miss Hawley was charged with forgery and McWhorter with aiding and abetting the uttering and publishing of a forged check. The judge continued both cases.

Church Consultation Held in Columbus

Mr. Dale DeLong, 590 Ridgewood Drive, and the Rev. Gerald Niswender, 425 S. Washington St., were among more than 2,000 persons attending the National Consultation on the Church in Community Life, held in Columbus Sept. 5 - 8.

Key decision makers from across the country considered the opportunities, plans, problems and hopes of churches in non-metropolitan society and were challenged to carry the ideas home for implementation.

The consultation was sponsored by 17 cooperating Protestant, Catholic and ecumenical organizations in cooperation with the Ohio State University.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Husbands Still Go to Stags

DEAR ABBY: I am a young housewife with a small child. My husband, I'll call him Arthur is still in the university, and I work part time to help support us. We have very little money and seldom go out. We have friends in occasionally and find time to have fun together, but here is the problem:

A friend of Arthur's is getting married soon and Arthur mentioned that he would like to go to a stag for this friend.

I told him if he went out I would not sit home alone, but would also go out and have a good time somewhere. Arthur objected to this.

I say, in the first place a married man has no business going to a stag. Besides that, I don't like to stay home alone. I get depressed and miserable and sit and look at the clock. Am I wrong?

EQUAL RIGHTS

DEAR EQUAL: Yes, you are wrong. Married men do go to stags. And an occasional night out with the boys is healthy for a man and also for his marriage. You show a possessiveness and possibly mistrust that is unbecoming and unjust. Send Arthur to the stag with a smile, and while he's out get your nose back into joint and into a good book.

DEAR ABBY: There is a man married in our circle of friends who always greets me with a great big powerful bear hug.

I am pleased that he feels so warm and affectionate toward me, but I do not happen to feel the same about him. Yet when he gives me this kind of greeting it is impossible for me to refuse his embrace without practically insulting him.

I just do not like to be drawn chest to chest with a man and crushed and hugged. Is there some nice way I can get this big moose to keep his hands off me?

Don't tell me to tell him off. I'm not the type.

PEE WEE

DEAR PEE WEE: When you see The Crusher, approach HIM with your right arm outstretched, and put a lot of enthusiasm into a welcoming handshake. Try it. It works.

DEAR ABBY: For some years now I have been wondering what every happened to the good old-fashioned fist fight between two youngsters when they had a difference of opinion?

Nowadays, it seems that the acceptable method of settling a difference consists of unmerciful — and sometimes — beatings administered not by one fellow, but by three or four towards — or a whole gang against one.

I grew up in one of the toughest neighborhoods in New York City 40 years ago, and if I happened to wander alone into the other gang's territory, the worst I could expect was that I'd have to fight ONE of the other gang. If I happened to be getting the better of the guy, I didn't have to worry about any of his buddies joining in to help him. Each kid took pride in fighting his own battles.

If anyone jumped in to help a pal, his whole gang would disown him on the spot, and his name would be "yellow belly" from then on.

We never heard of "rat packs" in those days. And we didn't use switchblades and lead pipes. It was one guy's fists against another's. Some of our fights were pretty bloody. But they were fair.

What's happened to our kids? Anyone care to comment?

Vietnam's First Ladies Contrast

By KELLY SMITH

SAIGON (AP) — The First Ladies of South Vietnam reflect the paradoxes among Asian womanhood.

Mrs. Nguyen Van Thieu, wife of the chief of state and president-elect, is a shy and modest housewife who stays in the background of the social and political world.

Mrs. Nguyen Cao Ky, wife of the premier and vice president-elect, is a fetching raven-haired beauty, one of the young Vietnamese who wear Paris clothes, have their noses reshaped and their eyes widened.

Each mirrors her husband's personality. Mrs. Thieu avoids the limelight but showed up at her husband's side for campaigning. The wife of the flamboyant Ky makes news wherever she goes, whether by wearing a black flight suit or taking her own photographs for the family scrapbook.

Mrs. Thieu grew up in the heavily populated Mekong delta south of Saigon in a town called My Tho on the muddy Mekong River. Its tree-lined streets and one-story pastel houses are a far different setting from the childhood of Mai Ky.

She was born near Hanoi, of a Buddhist family, and named Dang Thi Tuyet Mai. That means "cherry blossoms of the snow."

ORDINANCE NUMBER 47-67

To vacate a portion of Walnut Alley as extended, from the West boundary line of Canal Street, abandoned to the East boundary of the Ohio Erie Canal, abandoned.

Whereas, on the 1st day of Aug., 1967, a petition by persons owning the lots in the immediate vicinity of Walnut Alley, as extended, from the west boundary of Canal Street, abandoned to the east boundary of the Ohio Erie Canal, abandoned was duly presented to council praying that said portion of said alley, between the points named, be vacated; and notice of the pendency and prayer of said petition has been given as required by law, by waiver of all of the abutting owners.

Whereas, Council, upon hearing, is satisfied that there is good cause for such vacation as prayed for, that it will not be detrimental to the general interest, and ought to be made, now therefore.

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Circleville, State of Ohio:

Section 1. That a portion of Walnut Alley, as extended from the west boundary of Canal Street, abandoned to the east boundary of the Ohio Erie Canal, abandoned, and between lots numbers 327 and 328 as shown on Huston's First Addition in Plat Book Number 2, Page 96 of the records in the Recorder's Office of Pickaway County be and the same is hereby vacated.

Section 2. That this ordinance be and remain in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

PETTIT'S

Her father was assassinated and at 13 she fled to South Vietnam when the Communists took over the North. She attended a private school in the mountain resort of Dalat, became an airline stewardess at 20, and later was named "Miss Air Vietnam."

She met Ky at a lavish ball celebrating his appointment as commander of the air force, danced with him, and fell in love. Ky was divorced from a French woman and the father of four. Mai was 11 years his junior.

Mai and Ky were married, against opposition from his family, and she set out to adapt herself to what she calls her husband's sweetheart—the air force, his country. She learned to copilot a DC3, to fire a pistol, to speak better English, and to relax in the presence of newsmen.

Mrs. Thieu, a Roman Catholic in a country where this is not always popular, encouraged her fiancée—a young, handsome army officer—to convert.

He aspired to power in a country where power may mean death, imprisonment or family harassment, and she moved to

SAIGON knowing all this.

The Thieus have two children, a girl 13 and a boy 6, rarely seen at public functions. The Ky family includes his four children from his previous marriage, and their 16-month-old daughter, Duyen—a name meaning "the wonderful love story."

Johnson Resting At Texas Ranch

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — As President Johnson began a brief vacation at his Texas ranch, White House aides stated administration thinking on two critical issues—Vietnam peace moves and the U.S. economy.

Johnson, who bypassed his usual trip home over Labor Day, flew to the ranch Wednesday night to join his wife, who arrived a day earlier aboard a commercial airliner.

Johnson's break from White House routine coincides with the latter stages of the 10-day Labor Day recess by Congress, which won't return until Monday.

That's the day Johnson must be back to welcome visiting King Constantine of Greece for private talks and a luncheon.

Both women wear Western and Vietnamese clothes and a Western hairstyle. Vietnamese women go to beauty parlors more often than Americans but rarely take an active public role. What they are said to do behind the scenes is another matter.

Seen privately, Mrs. Thieu—who speaks fluent English—is relaxed and chatty. Mrs. Ky is more comfortable in French but has learned English rapidly in the last year.

Like all women, they have weaknesses. Both are said to be Batman fans.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Husbands Still Go to Stags

DEAR ABBY: I am a young housewife with a small child. My husband, I'll call him Arthur is still in the university, and I work part time to help support us. We have very little money and seldom go out. We have friends in occasionally and find time to have fun together, but here is the problem:

A friend of Arthur's is getting married soon and Arthur mentioned that he would like to go to a stag for this friend. I told him if he went out I would not sit home alone, but would also go out and have a good time somewhere. Arthur objected to this.

I say, in the first place a married man has no business going to a stag. Besides that, I don't like to stay home alone. I get depressed and miserable and sit and look at the clock. Am I wrong?

EQUAL RIGHTS DEAR ABBY: Yes, you are wrong. Married men do go to stags. And an occasional night out with the boys is healthy for a man and also for his marriage. You show a possessiveness and possibly mistrust that is unbecoming and unjust. Send Arthur to the stag with a smile, and while he's out get your nose back into joint and into a good book.

DEAR ABBY: There is a man married in our circle of friends who always greets me with a great big powerful bear hug.

I am pleased that he feels so warm and affectionate toward me, but I do not happen to feel the same about him. Yet when he gives me this kind of greeting it is impossible for me to refuse his embrace without practically insulting him.

I just do not like to be drawn chest to chest with a man and crushed and hugged. Is there some nice way I can get this big moose to keep his hands off me?

Don't tell me to tell him off. I'm not the type.

PEE WEE DEAR PEE WEE: When you see The Crusher, approach HIM with your right arm outstretched, and put a lot of enthusiasm into a welcoming handshake. Try it. It works.

DEAR ABBY: For some years now I have been wondering what every happened to the good old-fashioned fist fight between two youngsters when they had a difference of opinion?

Nowadays, it seems that the acceptable method of settling a difference consists of unmerciful — and sometimes — beatings administered not by one fellow, but by three or four cowards — or a whole gang against one.

I grew up in one of the toughest neighborhoods in New York City 40 years ago, and if I happened to wander alone into the other gang's territory, the worst I could expect was that I'd have to fight ONE of the other gang. If I happened to be getting the better of the guy, I didn't have to worry about any of his buddies joining in to help him. Each kid took pride in fighting his own battles. If anyone jumped in to help a pal, his whole gang would disown him on the spot, and his name would be "yellow belly" from then on.

We never heard of "rat packs" in those days. And we didn't use switchblades and lead pipes. It was one guy's fists against another's. Some of our fights were pretty bloody. But they were fair.

What's happened to our kids? Anyone care to comment? POP

Kingston

Miss Sherry Knisley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knisley, Kingston, recently returned from a day at the Ohio State Fair, where she was in a style show, in the 4-H competition. Sherry was in the top 4th class of the competition.

Vietnam's First Ladies Contrast

By KELLY SMITH

SAIGON (AP) — The First Ladies of South Vietnam reflect the paradoxes among Asian womenhood.

Mrs. Nguyen Van Thieu, wife of the chief of state and president-elect, is a shy and modest housewife who stays in the background of the social and political world.

Mrs. Nguyen Cao Ky, wife of the premier and vice president-elect, is a fetching raven-haired beauty, one of the young Vietnamese who wear Paris clothes, have their noses reshaped and their eyes widened.

Each mirrors her husband's personality. Mrs. Thieu avoids the limelight but showed up at her husband's side for campaigning. The wife of the flamboyant Ky makes news wherever she goes, whether by wearing a black flight suit or taking her own photographs for the family scrapbook.

Mrs. Thieu grew up in the heavily populated Mekong delta south of Saigon in a town called My Tho on the muddy Mekong River. Its tree-lined streets and one-story pastel houses are a far different setting from the childhood of Mai Ky.

She was born near Hanoi, of a Buddhist family, and named Dang Thi Tuyet Mai. That means "cherry blossoms of the snow."

PETTIT'S

Her father was assassinated and at 13 she fled to South Vietnam when the Communists took over the North. She attended a private school in the mountain resort of Dalat, became an airline stewardess at 20, and later was named "Miss Air Vietnam."

She met Ky at a lavish ball celebrating his appointment as commander of the air force, danced with him, and fell in love. Ky was divorced from a French woman and the father of four. Mai was 11 years his junior.

Mai and Ky were married, against opposition from his family, and she set out to adapt herself to what she calls her husband's sweetheart—the air force, his country. She learned to pilot a DC3, to fire a pistol, to speak better English, and to relax in the presence of newsmen.

Mrs. Thieu, a Roman Catholic in a country where this is not always popular, encouraged her fiancée—a young, handsome army officer—to convert.

He aspired to power in a country where power may mean death, imprisonment or family harassment, and she moved to

Saigon knowing all this.

The Thieus have two children, a girl 13 and a boy 6, rarely seen at public functions. The Ky family includes his four children from his previous marriage, and their 16-month-old daughter, Duyen—a name meaning "the wonderful love story."

Johnson Resting At Texas Ranch

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — As President Johnson began a brief vacation at his Texas ranch, White House aides stated administration thinking on two critical issues—Vietnam peace moves and the U.S. economy.

Johnson, who bypassed his usual trip home over Labor Day, flew to the ranch Wednesday night to join his wife, who arrived a day earlier aboard a commercial airliner.

Johnson's break from White House routine coincides with the latter stages of the 10-day Labor Day recess by Congress, which won't return until Monday. That's the day Johnson must be back to welcome visiting King Constantine of Greece for private talks and a luncheon.

Both women wear Western and Vietnamese clothes and a Western hairstyle. Vietnamese women go to beauty parlors more often than Americans but rarely take an active public role. What they are said to do behind the scenes is another matter.

Seen privately, Mrs. Thieu—who speaks fluent English—is relaxed and chatty. Mrs. Ky is more comfortable in French but has learned English rapidly in the last year.

Like all women, they have weaknesses. Both are said to be Batman fans.

American business isn't so dumb. Two years ago reporters and pollsters were busy on the campuses of our universities turning up all sorts of material about the failure of corporations "ivory hunters" to enlist the imagination of the young. Careers in the Peace Corps and in government were "in"; flattering offers from GE or GM were, as the Wall Street Journal put it, "for the birds." But nothing stays still in America, and business has been striking back.

It has been doing it by soft-shell methods. Instead of approaching the gifted undergraduate in his senior year in College after he has been exposed to four years of indoctrination about the needs of the "public sector," it has been dipping back a bit. One method, favored by Texaco and General Motors among other big corporations, is to set up college scholarships for promising kids on a "no obligation" basis. The boy on a Texaco scholarship will know who is paying part of his bill for education, but he may wind up working for GM, or even taking a job teaching. The idea of the corporations is not to nail down any specific individual but to develop a reservoir of professional skills which will be there to tap. The corporation scholarships are like money shelled out for Little League baseball, which provides a pool of talent that helps the New York Mets and the Los Angeles Dodgers without discrimination.

Just as American parents have discovered that good education may be had in non-Ivy League universities, business has been discovering the small college. Some of the big New York banks, for example, take a special interest in Pace College, a liberal arts and business training institution which has been around since 1906 without getting any particular fame. Pace might be called the answer to that old newspaperman's question, "whatever became of Park Row?" for it occupies the old New York Tribune Building opposite the City Hall, it was once in the old World Building, and it is constructing a new campus on hallowed newspaper ground between City Hall park and the Brooklyn Bridge. It also has a branch in suburban Westchester, at Pleasantville.

The New York banks which are currently underwriting the studies of seventeen students at Pace include the Chase Manhattan, the Bankers Trust and the Bank of New York. Besides paying the students' tuitions, the banks employ the young men and women on a part-time basis. The "selfish interest" of the sponsoring banks in helping to train promising business talent is obvious, but there are no strings attached to the largesse. The Bankers Trust may wind up getting the Chase Manhattan student, and vice versa.

George Champion, the chairman of the Chase Manhattan board of directors, has long been urging business to get in there and create its own "Great Society." The Chase is currently contributing to this not only by providing college scholarships, but also by its Business Experience Training Program (BET) which picks high school students from the New York drop-out rate. The boys and girls chosen for BET are employed at the bank from two to five in the afternoon five days a week at $1.78 an hour, and go to school as usual in the morning. They may or may not go on to college. If they do, it may be by attending night school with the aid of the bank's tuition refund plan.

The American Can Company and Armstrong Cork have recently "loaned" Penn State University a couple of business executives in residence. Other companies give administrative and scientific personnel time off to teach. The Radio Corporation of America, Shell Oil and Sinclair Oil have been among the leaders encouraging this. The Radio Corporation recently assigned fifteen company engineers and scientists to give weekly classroom lectures on new developments in nuclear physics and space technology at four Brooklyn high schools. The lectures were so popular that eight other industrial companies have since combined with RCA to give special courses in science for high school students all over New York City. Naturally, the teachers tip their "home offices" off to the brightest talents.

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I am a 13-year-old girl and enjoy reading your medical columns. I hope someday to be a nurse.

I have two questions. First, can a person like me outgrow asthmatic attacks? Second, I did not quite understand what you meant when you wrote in your column, "Young men must always remember that it is impossible to remove the tattoos that they were dared into having in a moment of weakness." Please explain this.

Marcia R., Virginia

Dear Marcia: Thank you for writing to me. I am delighted that you enjoy reading my columns. I am particularly delighted that at such an early age you hope to become a nurse.

I have a great admiration for nurses, their kindnesses and their dedication to patients. I have always felt that good nursing care is probably just as responsible for the recovery of a patient as is good medicine. In fact, it is an accepted feeling today that the nurse and the doctor together make up the health team that is so important in recovery from illness.

You will be pleased to know that today's nurse is trained in the arts, the sciences and the humanities so that she can bring to her patient and to her own family the advantages of this training.

Now let me return to your medical questions. Many patients who were once treated for asthma find that the attacks grow fewer and farther between and then slowly disappear entirely.

I am certain that, with the good medical attention you are undoubtedly having, your asthmatic attacks will come under complete control and will not interfere with your health or with your plans to be a nurse.

Now let me explain the statement about tattooing which seems to confuse you. Very often young teenage boys and young adults are dared into having a design tattooed on their skin. Because they would be considered "chicken" if they didn't do it, they submit to what can sometimes be a dangerous prank.

Tattoo needles are often not sterilized and have been known to be responsible for transmitting venereal disease in the process of tattooing. It is for this reason that tattoo parlors have been ruled off the streets by law.

Nevertheless, there are still many places where a young man can permanently have inscribed on his forearm the heart, the serpent and the initials that he later wants to remove. In foreign countries, particularly, tattooing is allowed.

Now the young man grows into maturity and for the rest of his life he has fixed on his skin a symbol of an experience he would rather forget.

I have seen hundreds of people with tattoos and I really believe that almost every one of them would gladly submit to surgery if it were possible to remove them. Unfortunately, there is no method by which this can satisfactorily be done.

I, therefore, warn young men to resist being "dared" into doing something that they will be sorry for.

I hope, Marcia, that you fulfill your ambitions to be a nurse. It is a most rewarding and gratifying profession.

Pressure is the best first-aid method to control bleeding.

Business Strikes Back

By John Chamberlain

American business isn't so dumb. Two years ago reporters and pollsters were busy on the campuses of our universities turning up all sorts of material about the failure of corporations "Ivory hunters" to enlist the imagination of the young. Careers in the Peace Corps and in government were "in"; flattering offers from GE or GM were, as the Wall Street Journal put it, "for the birds." But nothing stays still in America, and business has been striking back.

It has been doing it by soft-sell methods. Instead of approaching the gifted undergraduate in his senior year in College after he has been exposed to four years of indoctrination about the needs of the "public sector," it has been dipping back a bit. One method, favored by Texaco and General Motors among other big corporations, is to set up college scholarships for promising kids on a "no obligation" basis. The boy on a Texaco scholarship will know who is paying part of his bill for education, but he may wind up working for GM, or even taking a job teaching. The idea of the corporations is not to nail down any specific individual but to develop a reservoir of professional skills which will be there to tap. The corporation scholarships are like money shelled out for Little League baseball, which provides a pool of talent that helps the New York Mets and the Los Angeles Dodgers without discrimination.

Just as American parents have discovered that good education may be had in non-Ivy League universities, business has been discovering the small college. Some of the big New York banks, for example, take a special interest in Pace College, a liberal arts and business training institution which has been around since 1906 without getting any particular fame. Pace might be called the answer to that old newspaperman's question, "whatever became of Park Row?" for it occupies the old New York Tribune Building opposite the City Hall, it was once in the old World Building, and it is constructing a new campus on hallowed newspaper ground between City Hall park and the Brooklyn Bridge. It also has a branch in suburban Westchester, at Pleasantville.

The New York banks which are currently underwriting the studies of seventeen students at Pace include the Chase Manhattan, the Bankers Trust and the Bank of New York. Besides paying the students' tuitions, the banks employ the young men and women on a part-time basis. The "selfish interest" of the sponsoring banks in helping

Elizabeth Hemphill, et al.,
Defendants

NO. 22386
LEGAL NOTICE
Barbara Minister, who resides at 1203 60th Street West, Brandon, Florida, will take notice individually and as mother of Sheila Ann Hemphill, a minor, that on the 28th day of August, 1967, the plaintiff, Frank E. Tolbard, Jr., as Executor of the Estate of John Carl Hemphill, deceased, filed his Petition against her in the Probate Court of Pickaway County, Ohio, for the sale of real estate described in the Petition to pay debts, and for a declaratory judgment as to the distribution of the proceeds of the sale of real estate and personal property, which real estate is situated in the Township of Seidow, County of Pickaway, and State of Ohio, and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a stone in the center of a County Road and in the south line of Original Survey No. 1289 northwesterly corner of Lot No. 4, thence with the westerly line of said lot S. 14 1/4 degrees E. 121 poles and 16 links to a four inch tile in the line of lands of Robert Parkinson southwesterly corner of said lot, thence with a line of said land S. 85 1/4 degrees W. 37 poles 2 links to a stone; thence N. 14 1/4 degrees W. 127 poles, 23 links to a stone in the center of said road and in the south line or original line Survey No. 1289, thence with said road and line S. 85 1/4 degrees E. 38 poles and 15 links to the place of beginning containing 28 1/2 acres of land more or less.

Being properly purchased from Samuel Wilson Earnest by deed dated September 27, 1962 and recorded in Deed Record 175, page 286 of the Pickaway County, Ohio Deed Records.

The prayer of said Petition is for sale of said real estate to pay debts, for determination of the rights of Sheila Ann Hemphill and Walter R. Hemphill and for other relief.

Said person will take notice that she has been made a party defendant in said petition and is required to answer on or before October 28, 1967.

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I am a 13-year-old girl and enjoy reading your medical columns. I hope someday to be a nurse.

I have two questions. First, can a person like me outgrow asthmatic attacks? Second, I did not quite understand what you meant when you wrote in your column, "Young men must always remember that it is impossible to remove the tattoos that they were dared into having in a moment of weakness." Please explain this.

Dear Marcia: Thank you for writing to me. I am delighted that you enjoy reading my columns. I am particularly delighted that at such an early age you hope to become a nurse.

I have a great admiration for nurses, their kindnesses and their dedication to patients. I have always felt that good nursing care is probably just as responsible for the recovery of a patient as is good medicine. In fact, it is an accepted feeling today that the nurse and the doctor together make up the health team that is so important in recovery from illness.

You will be pleased to know that today's nurse is trained in the arts, the sciences and the humanities so that she can bring to her patient and to her own family the advantages of this training.

Now let me return to your medical questions. Many patients who were once treated for asthma find that the attacks grow fewer and farther between and then slowly disappear entirely.

I am certain that, with the good medical attention you are undoubtedly having, your asthmatic attacks will come under complete control and will not interfere with your health or with your plans to be a nurse.

Now let me explain the statement about tattooing which seems to confuse you. Very often young teenage boys and young adults are dared into having a design tattooed on their skin. Because they would be considered "chicken" if they didn't do it, they submit to what can sometimes be a dangerous prank.

Tattoo needles are often not sterilized and have been known to be responsible for transmitting venereal disease in the process of tattooing. It is for this reason that tattoo parlors have been ruled off the streets by law.

Nevertheless, there are still many places where a young man can permanently have inscribed on his forearm the heart, the serpent and the initials that he later wants to remove. In foreign countries, particularly, tattooing is allowed.

Now the young man grows into maturity and for the rest of his life he has fixed on his skin a symbol of an experience he would rather forget.

I have seen hundreds of people with tattoos and I really believe that almost every one of them would gladly submit to surgery if it were possible to remove them. Unfortunately, there is no method by which this can satisfactorily be done.

I, therefore, warn young men to resist being "dared" into doing something that they will be sorry for.

I hope, Marcia, that you fulfill your ambitions to be a nurse. It is a most rewarding and gratifying profession.

Pressure is the best first-aid method to control bleeding.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

TEN YEARS AGO

Hal Dickinson was named president of the Pickaway County unit of the American Cancer Society.

David McDonald, Steve Melwagen, Alex Cook and Jake Bailey were outstanding players on the CHS freshman football team.

Logan and Circleville battled to a 7-7 tie in a game at the band preview.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Circleville and Pickaway County canneries were taking part in an accelerated program which preserved the largest volume of perishable goods in history.

Jaycees reported a total sales of $250 worth of war bonds in the campaign the day before.

Reported enrollment for schools in the county was 3,400.

NOTICE OF SALE: By virtue of an Order for Sale issued on August 14, 1967 by the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio, Eastern Division, at Columbus, Ohio, in Civil Action No. 67-69 UNITED STATES OF AMERICA vs. Alfred E. Flack, et al I will offer for sale to the highest bidder on Friday 9-22-67 at 10:00 o'clock A. M. at the front door of the Pickaway County Court House, Circleville, Ohio, the following described real estate:

Beginning at a post in the line of premises now owned by Ella May Ferguson in the center of the Circleville and Washington Turnpike; thence northerly with the line of said Ferguson to the center of the C & M. V. Railroad; thence with the center of said Railroad easterly 63 1/2 feet to a stake; thence southerly and parallel with said first described line to the center of said Turnpike; thence with the center of said Turnpike westerly 63 1/2 feet to the place of beginning, containing one-half acre of land, more or less, and on the western side of said parcel, except such part thereof as may be occupied by said Railroad and subject to all legal highways.

Property Address: 150 West Front Street, New Holland, Ohio.
Terms of Sale: Cash on day of sale. I reserve the right to reject any and all bids. ARTHUR C. ELLIOTT, United States Marshal, Southern District of Ohio.

Too often people who wouldn't dream of eating off-flavor food will choke down foul tasting sulphur water or chlorine water... because they don't know how easy it is to improve it!

The cure is a special home-water filter, the Aqua-Pure®

Taste and Odor filter that can be installed under your kitchen sink in minutes. It filters out all bad tastes and odors, gives you all the really good-tasting cooking and drinking water you can use.

Only a modest investment, and a simple installation problem — just pick up your phone and tell us to bring one out and install it. Your family and guests will thank you.

P.S. The Aqua-Pure taste and odor filter is made by one of the most respected companies in water conditioning equipment — The Cuno Engineering Corporation, a subsidiary of AMERICAN MACHINE & FOUNDRY COMPANY.

Fausnaugh-Cooper Vows Read in First EUB Church

MR. AND MRS. WAYNE COOPER

Before an altar adorned with white roses and white satin bows, nuptial vows were repeated by Miss Judy Fausnaugh and Wayne Cooper. The Rev. Forest Cooper, father of the groom, performed the 2:30 p. m. service at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church on Sunday.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fausnaugh, Route 3, and the groom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Forest Cooper, East Bank, W. Va.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess style gown of white satin with elbow-length bell sleeves edged with imported lace. A detachable train of chantilly lace flowed from the back neckline to the floor. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. Her bouquet was composed of white roses, centered in an arrangement of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Joy Fausnaugh, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a floor-length dress of Nile yellow with bell sleeves and a band of green accenting the empire waistline. A bow served as her headpiece with six streamers accented with daisies and she wore matching nymph green gloves.

Miss Jeannie Augenstein, the bride's college roommate, served as bridesmaid. She was also dressed in a floor-length yellow dress with a yellow headpiece and gloves, a gift from the bride.

Miss Jayne Boltenhouse also served as a bridesmaid and was attired the same as Miss Augenstein.

The bride's attendants all carried cascade bouquets of yellow pompon mums accented with green and yellow ribbons.

Miss Lesia Cooper, niece of the groom, and Miss Cindy Dunigan, cousin of the bride, were flower girls. They were dressed in matching yellow, floor-length gowns accented with two front panels of white lace intertwined with green velvet ribbon. They carried white straw baskets filled with white rose petals.

Master Perry Cooper Jr., nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. He was dressed in a white suit and wore a yellow boutonniere. He carried a white satin pillow trimmed with white lace.

The ceremony was preceded by a half-hour of music presented by Miss Lucille Kirkwood.

Samuel Stumbo served as best man for Mr. Cooper. Seating the guests were Donald Fausnaugh and Clarence Fausnaugh, brothers of the bride; Perry Cooper, Kenneth Cooper, Timothy Cooper and David Cooper, brothers of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fausnaugh chose a pale green whipped cream crepe sheath dress with white accessories and a corsage of white mums.

The groom's mother wore a turquoise colored suit with matching accessories. She also wore a corsage of white mums.

A reception was held in the church service center, immediately following the wedding.

The green and white color scheme was carried out with a four tiered white wedding cake surrounded by a spray of lilies of the valley and two separate cakes with the name of the bride and groom flanking the sides of the wedding cake and decorated with yellow roses.

Miss Nancy Sells, college friend of the bride, served as guest book attendant, while Mrs. Perry Cooper, Mrs. Clyde Fausnaugh and Mrs. Helen Dunigan served as hostesses. They wore matching white aprons, gifts of the bride.

For her going-away outfit, the bride was attired in an orange princess style dress, trimmed in antique lace. She wore a charm bracelet, a gift from the groom.

After a honeymoon to the Great Lakes, the couple will reside at 506½ N. Court St.

The new Mrs. Cooper is a graduate of Circleville High School and attended Otterbein College where she was a member of Theta Nu Sorority.

Mr. Cooper, a graduate of East Bank High School, in East Bank, W. Va., is presently affiliated with Owens Illinois.

Ohio's Population Up to 10.4 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau reports Ohio's population increased 7.8 per cent to 10,462,000 between the 1960 census and last July 1.

In a preliminary estimate of state populations, the bureau said Nevada's 55 per cent increase to 444,000 was the largest.

Salem WCTU Meeting Held

Salem WCTU met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Durbin Allen. Two guests, Mrs. Leona Stonerock and Mrs. Mabel Downs were present.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House study group recommends a federal bank be set up to lend money for college education costs to all academically qualified students.

The loans would be repaid over 30 or 40 years when the borrowers file their annual federal income taxes. The study panel suggested this be done on a schedule of one per cent of the gross income over 30 years for each $3,000 borrowed.

Although the White House hasn't endorsed the plan, government education officials are looking it over.

The National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, along with some independent education experts, criticized the plan, contending it would create inflationary college pricing and lifelong indebtedness for the borrowers. But support is expected from some private colleges anxious to find ways of financing the cost of education.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Economic Opportunity says antipoverty workers helped prevent trouble this summer in many cities where potential riot situations existed.

The OEO report was issued just before Congress returns to resume consideration of a $2-billion antipoverty bill which has run into trouble because of concern about the political effect of rioting.

There have been accusations in recent weeks that antipoverty workers contributed to disturbances in several Northern cities. However, the OEO maintained that people from Community Action agencies "calmed down bad situations in specific instances" in 15 cities where no actual rioting erupted.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to turn over to Japan a documentary film showing the effects of the Hiroshima atomic bomb attack which this country launched in 1945.

The film, nearly three hours long, has been classified secret. Officials said that it will be up to the Japanese government to decide whether it should be made public.

Education Group Plans Fight Again Legislators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Legislators who voted against the administration's education-tax bill can expect opposition from the state's biggest teacher organization if they seek re-election next year.

That's the word circulating in the Ohio Education Association (OEA), claiming 86,000 school teacher and administrator members out of some 96,000 in the state.

Most Democrats and a shattering of Republicans voted against the bill in the final showdown that found the GOP majority unable to muster enough support for immediate pay increases to teachers and other school employees, although they will start retroactively Dec. 1.

Teachers get an average of $700-$800 a year raises and nonteaching employees an increase of 10 cents an hour with a $100 annual minimum and $208 maximum.

Congratulatory letters from school officials, some of them formerly among Gov. James A. Rhodes' severest critics, indicate the depth of sentiment from which election opposition could stem.

Similar letters commending the governor also come from leading Roman Catholic churchmen for his support of a $15 million auxiliary services appropriation for nonpublic schools in the $300 million program funded by increases in sales, cigarettes and corporate franchise taxes.

The enacted program, boosting the two-year total for schools and higher education to a record of $1.2 billion, also could work against organizing efforts of the Ohio Federation of Teachers, an AFL-CIO union affiliate, in the opinion of some.

"It has put the union in a bind to explain the vote against immediate pay raises," an education leader asserted.

But Warren Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio AFL-CIO which opposed the penny sales leville, called on Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers, Sunday.

Sunday visitors of Mrs. Diana Valentine was Mr. and Mrs. Ira Valentine and George.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hooks and daughter, Lesa Mae, Springfield and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Young and daughter, Sulayne, Circleville, called on Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rife.

Mr. and Mrs. Estell Salyers and family were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. G.C. Conrad.

tax boost along with Democrats to get most of the increase for education, asserted the new law would not slow the union's drive for members.

An estimated 6,000 belong to the teacher union.

OEA Executive Secretary Stayner Brighton lauded Rhodes and the GOP legislative leadership for honoring their commitment to education. And Joh D. Millett, Regents chancellor, hailed the enacted

'Congressional Record' LBJ's Favorite Reading

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's favorite morning reading is a pulp paper magazine that often caters to his key critics—The Congressional Record.

It's a good place to find out what's being said about him and his administration. And, some sources say, the President's not above planting an item or two to tell his side of the story.

He's so anxious to get the Record every day that a special White House messenger is dispatched to pick it up hot off the Government Printing Office press, sometimes before dawn.

Usually by 7 a.m., a special White House aide is hard at work culling through the pages of the Record to clip items and mark sections for Johnson's attention.

Often, after he reads the daily digest of the procedures of House and Senate, speeches of members and items they have inserted in the appendix, Johnson is on the phone to find out what his key officials are doing to offset some criticism, correct some blunder or promote a sagging project.

He has made it clear repeatedly to Cabinet and staff that he wants them to respond quickly to congressional complaints, inquiries and requests.

Johnson got into the habit of scouring The Congressional Record during his more than 25 years of service in Congress.

The Congressional Record, published under various titles since about 1789, is filled with items ranging from eulogies and editorials to after-dinner speeches and favorite flower promotions. Congressmen can drop in anything that strikes their fancy.

Although it's an unpretentious, pulp paper publication, the Record costs the government about $100 a page to print. Periodically there's caustic comment about absurdities some congressmen have printed. It's even been called a "dumping ground for trash, tripe and trivia."

Education Group Plans Fight Again Legislators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Legislators who voted against the administration's education tax bill can expect opposition from the state's biggest teacher organization if they seek reelection next year.

That's the word circulating in the Ohio Education Association (OEA), claiming 86,000 school teacher and administrator members out of some 96,000 in the state.

Most Democrats and a shattering of Republicans voted against the bill in the final showdown that found the GOP majority unable to muster enough support for immediate pay increases to teachers and other school employees, although they will start retroactively Dec. 1.

Teachers get an average of $700-$800 a year raises and nonteaching employees an increase of 10 cents an hour with a $100 annual minimum and $208 maximum.

Congratulatory letters from school officials, some of them formerly among Gov. James A. Rhodes' severest critics, indicate the depth of sentiment from which election opposition could stem.

Similar letters commending the governor also came from leading Roman Catholic churches for his support of a $15 million auxiliary services appropriation for nonpublic schools in the $300 million program funded by increases in sales, cigarettes and corporate franchise taxes.

The enacted program, boosting the two-year total for schools and higher education to a record of $1.2 billion, also could work against organizing efforts of the Ohio Federation of Teachers, an AFL-CIO union affiliate, in the opinion of some.

"It has put the union in a bind to explain the vote against immediate pay raises," an education leader asserted.

But Warren Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio AFL-CIO which opposed the penny sales tax boost along with Democrats to get most of the increase for education, asserted the new law would not slow the union's drive for members.

An estimated 6,000 belong to the teacher union.

OEA Executive Secretary Stayner Brighton lauded Rhodes and the GOP legislative leadership for honoring their commitment to education.

And John D. Millett, Regents chancellor, hailed the enacted program as a milestone in education.

"I know that most people will see only the increase in tax payments," Millett wrote the governor, "but surely our citizens will also shortly realize that you and the general assembly have contributed substantially to their future benefit."

Supt. W. C. Smith of Mahoning County schools recalled that Rhodes, now serving his second four-year term, promised in the 1962 campaign to "change the trend in the matter of state support for schools."

"The new support program for schools is," Smith wrote, "the most outstanding accomplishment toward improvement of Ohio schools that has occurred in many decades."

Commendatory letters also came from Eva D. Caulley, executive chairman of the Oak Hill School District in Rhodes' home county of Jackson; Supt. Albert R. Durose of Gallipoli city schools and Defiance School Supt. Claude W. Henke.

"You can rest assured that you have support within our ranks for the future," Durose said.

PCSCCA Holds Initial Meet

The Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults held the first meeting of the 1967-68 year Tuesday, at society headquarters, 108 Reber Ave.

Mrs. Elliott Mason, president, was in charge of the business session at which time a brief resume was given of summer activities. This included a report on the Summer Speech and Hearing Clinic, the Saturday Pickaway County Speech and Hearing Clinic, Summer Camp, Crippled Children's Day at the Ohio State Fair, equipment loan and the Treasurer's report.

Mrs. Neil Morris, Mrs. H. Eugene Flowers, Mrs. William Collins and Mrs. Earl Smith are new members of the Society.

The next meeting will be held 1:30 p.m. Oct. 2 at society headquarters.

Apartments Taken Over By Church

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — When Dallas Methodists decided they couldn't get enough apartment dwellers into church, they decided to get into apartments—about $1 million worth.

Methodist officials said Wednesday they plan to build a nonprofit apartment complex so that the church will be "working from the inside out rather than from the outside in."

In the 75-unit complex, the Rev. John Rasmussen Jr. of suburban Mesquite will be pastor. He said residents other than Methodists will be welcomed to the apartment complex which will include a parsonage, a church, a swimming pool and possibly a beauty shop.

The project, the Rev. Mr. Rasmussen explained is a pilot effort to show the way to deal with the problem of getting apartment residents interested in religion.

Rentals will be about the same as for other apartments, Methodist officials said, and they emphasized the project could not be styled "low-rent."

Methodist Bishop W. Kenneth Pope and the Rev. Earl Harvey, both of Dallas, were among Methodist leaders suggesting the new project.

Probably to be completed within a year, the project will have the support of various Methodist agencies and boards, the pastor said.

Washington Grange Schedules Election

The Washington Grange will meet Tuesday in the 4-H and Grange Building on the Pickaway Fairgrounds.

A carry-in supper will precede the business session. Election of officers will be held. All members are requested to attend.

King Speech Slated Today in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who canceled a speaking engagement here for Saturday because of a funeral commitment, will speak today instead, a local official said Thursday.

The civil rights leader will address the Progressive National Baptist Convention.

Lawmakers Set To Meet Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio legislators return to the Statehouse today for a half-day cleanup session that may keep alive pending measures on local income taxes and Sunday liquor sales.

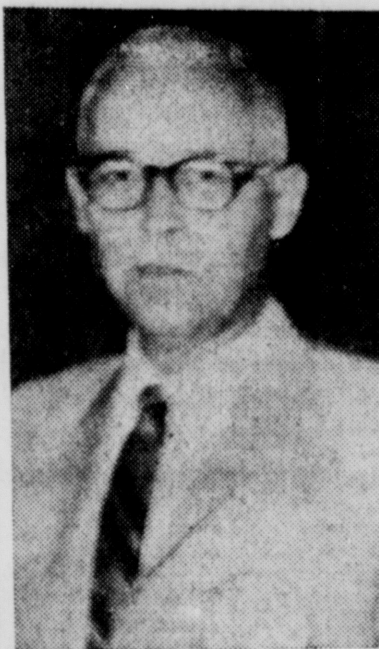

Both House and Senate members meet at 1:30 p.m. to take up matters left hanging when they recessed Aug. 27.

The House Taxation Committee may take action to preserve a bill to require municipalities to share with suburbs income taxes paid by non-residents. Other action was expected on the bill to legalize Sunday liquor sales.

Senators were called for the meeting Thursday to correct numbering in the school foundation bill. The Senate had originally planned only a skeleton meeting of leaders.

Most pending bills are expected to be virtually eliminated by a motion to indefinitely postpone consideration. Only bills listed for studies would be expected.

Among the bills to be preserved are a half dozen measures pending before the House Finance Committee.

ROTARY SPEAKER — Dr. Robert G. Smith was the principal speaker at Circleville Rotary Thursday noon. He told of his experiences as a volunteer surgeon in Vietnam this summer.

Truck Crashes, Beer Flows Out

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Beer flowed in a creek alongside the Reading Railroad in suburban Plymouth Meeting Thursday.

It got there when a tractor-trailer loaded with 600 cases and 100 half-barrels of the brew was struck by a 63-car freight train.

Truck driver Charles Kainath, 64, of Norristown, Pa., was not injured, police reported.

Those bills include one providing for construction of a new state office building on the site of the present Statehouse annex or elsewhere.

The bill would permit the Ohio Building Authority to issue revenue bonds to build the facility and to decide where it should be located.

Another proposes a constitutional amendment to eliminate the present $750,000 state debt limit and provide limited authority for issuing highway and capital improvement bonds by the legislature.

Briton Has Collection of 20,000 Books

LONDON (AP) — Joseph McLaughlin is such a heavy reader that the weight of his books was endangering his neighbors.

Stacked in his second-floor apartment, they caused the ceiling of the apartment beneath him to creak and sag.

The worried occupants of the ground-floor apartment appealed to the borough engineer in suburban Harrow.

Questioned by the engineer, McLaughlin, 82, said he had been collecting books at the rate of 1,000 a year for the last 20 years.

He was told eight days ago he couldn't keep them in his apartment any longer because their weight was too much for the structure of the house.

Eight workmen appeared with a truck and began to move out the books. They finished Wednesday night.

Among McLaughlin's treasures was a 14th century manuscript, a first edition of Byron's "Don Juan," and other valuable editions.

The books were moved to a vacant school nearby. They filled an entire classroom.

"I shall have to sell them," said McLaughlin, "but I shall miss them."

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

I Jesus, am with you always, to the close of the age. It is to your advantage that I go away, for if I do not go away, the counselor will not come to you, but if I go away, I will send him to you. I will make all things new, with a new name.

If any man would follow me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me. No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God. Leave the dead to bury their own dead.

Toastmasters To Begin New Season

The first regular fall meeting of the Circleville Toastmasters Club will be held at the L & K Restaurant on Thursday.

The local chapter began in 1966 and received its charter in January of 1967.

Present officers are Bob Rustin, president; Bill Gary, educational vice president; and Chuck Orr, administrative vice president.

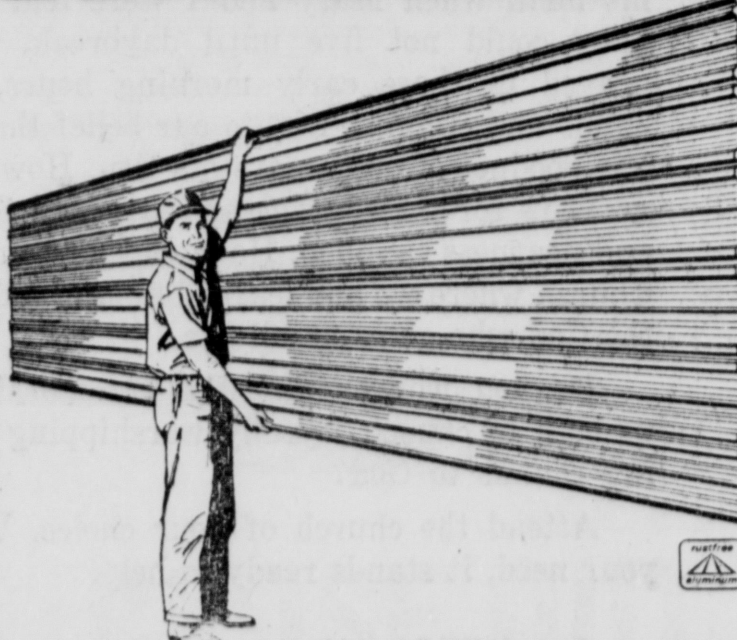

The Toastmasters Club is a group of men interested in self-improvement and willing to work at it on the well established principle of "Learning by Doing". To this end the men practice speaking before their fellow members. They give each other their impressions of what has been said and how it could have been done more effectively.

A special feature of the fall program will be participation in a radio program to be presented by a Columbus radio station.

LAY SPEAKER — Leonard Whipple, Visalia, Calif., will be the speaker 6:45 a. m. Saturday when the Christian Business Men's Lay Assn. meets at Noel's Drive-In on the Lancaster Pike. Whipple was a cost analyst for Albion Malleable Iron Co. until 1959 when he gave up his post to do fulltime Christian lay work. Laymen of the community are invited to attend the meeting.

Russian Religion Is Still Strong

By JOHN WEYLAND
MOSCOW (AP) — Religious belief persists in the Soviet Union in surprising strength despite 50 years of Communist power.

In a recent survey in the large city of Kazan—the first of its kind known to have been made—21 per cent of the adults questioned said they believe in God. Another survey in a typical collective farm area showed that 57 per cent of the families had religious shrines in their homes.

The actual number of believers is probably larger than these figures indicate, since refusal to avow official atheism has social and career disadvantages.

Soviet authorities have expressed concern about the persistence of religion. Pravda, the voice of the Communist party, earlier this year called for an increased struggle against "religious survival." It said this caused "damage to our society" and called for more education in atheism for all age groups.

There is recent evidence that new and more subtle methods will be used since the old crude antireligious propaganda has not worked so well.

Komsomolskaya Pravda, the newspaper of the Young Communist League, unexpectedly printed a letter last week advocating belief in God. This was accompanied by arguments in favor of atheism.

Wake Up Your PERISTALSIS And Be Your SMILING BEST

Peristalsis is the muscular action of your digestive system. When peristaltic action slows down, waste materials can build up in the lower tract. You can become irregular, uncomfortable, stuffed.

The unique laxative formula of today's Carter's Pills gives effective, temporary relief of the irregularity by activating the slowed-down muscles of the lower tract and stimulating peristalsis.

So if you're sluggish due to irregularity, take Carter's Pills to wake up your peristalsis and you'll bounce back to your smiling best. Millions of satisfied users take Carter's Pills for effective temporary relief of irregularity. Why don't you. 49¢.

But a polite and rational tone was maintained throughout.

The paper, which is read by millions of young people, apparently was trying to get through to those seriously considering the basic problems of life and death. It was not just dismissing the argument for religion as ridiculous.

The Soviet leadership seemed confident at one time that religion could be made to wither away, just as Marx said the

Confused Teller Scares Bandit

NEW YORK (AP)—A fumbling teller at the Chase Manhattan Bank foiled a holdup Thursday when she couldn't find the alarm bell.

The girl, who had only been working at the bank two weeks, became a bit flustered when a man walked up and handed her a note.

"If you don't want to be hurt, put $5s, $10s and $20s into the bag," the note read. "Don't trip anything."

The girl, whom police did not identify, couldn't find the alarm button—so she walked away. The would-be bandit fled.

"I got confused," the teller explained.

state would under Communism. Although the 1936 Stalin constitution guarantees freedom of worship, churches have been closed gradually and the training of new priests or other religious leaders has been hampered.

The obvious calculation behind this was that the people, without the traditional means to sustain their faith, would lose interest and accept the atheism taught in the schools and extolled in the press.

The churches to survive are obliged to be inconspicuous and unassertive. The Communist regime imposes many restrictions to keep them from getting publicity and to reduce their importance in the community.

Social and charitable work is banned. Sermons are censored. Children are not allowed to attend services.

Some members have balked at this state control and broken away from the recognized groups like the Russian Orthodox Church under Patriarch Alexei of the All-Union Council of Evangelical Christians and Baptists.

These underground believers are little heard of, except when their leaders are caught and tried for violating laws against teaching religion to the young or holding unauthorized meetings.

The result has been that while religious belief continues the outward manifestations are rare.

PCSCCA Holds Initial Meet

The Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults held the first meeting of the 1967-68 year Tuesday, at society headquarters, 108 Reber Ave.

Mrs. Elliott Mason, president, was in charge of the business session at which time a brief resume was given of summer activities. This included a report on the Summer Speech and Hearing Clinic, the Saturday Pickaway County Speech and Hearing Clinic, Summer Camp, Crippled Children's Day at the Ohio State Fair, equipment loan and the Treasurer's report.

Mrs. Neil Morris, Mrs. H. Eugene Flowers, Mrs. William Collins and Mrs. Earl Smith are new members of the Society.

The next meeting will be held 1:30 p.m. Oct. 2 at society headquarters.

Apartments Taken Over By Church

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — When Dallas Methodists decided they couldn't get enough apartment dwellers into church, they decided to get into apartments—about $1 million worth.

Methodist officials said Wednesday they plan to build a nonprofit apartment complex so that the church will be "working from the inside out rather than from the outside in."

In the 75-unit complex, the Rev. John Rasmussen Jr. of suburban Mesquite will be pastor. He said residents other than Methodists will be welcomed to the apartment complex which will include a parsonage, a church, a swimming pool and possibly a beauty shop.

The project, the Rev. Mr. Rasmussen explained is a pilot effort to show the way to deal with the problem of getting apartment residents interested in religion.

Rentals will be about the same as for other apartments, Methodist officials said, and they emphasized the project could not be styled "low-rent."

Methodist Bishop W. Kenneth Pope and the Rev. Earl Harvey, both of Dallas, were among Methodist leaders suggesting the new project.

Probably to be completed within a year, the project will have the support of various Methodist agencies and boards, the pastor said.

Washington Grange Schedules Election

Lawmakers Set To Meet Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio legislators return to the Statehouse today for a half-day cleanup session that may keep alive pending measures on local income taxes and Sunday liquor sales.

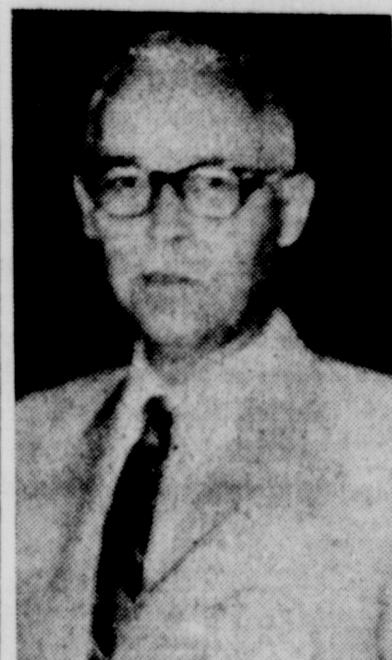

Both House and Senate members meet at 1:30 p.m. to take up matters left hanging when they recessed Aug. 27.

The House Taxation Committee may take action to preserve a bill to require municipalities to share with suburbs income taxes paid by non-residents. Other action was expected on the bill to legalize Sunday liquor sales.

Senators were called for the meeting Thursday to correct numbering in the school foundation bill. The Senate had originally planned only a skeleton meeting of leaders.

Most pending bills are expected to be virtually eliminated by a motion to indefinitely postpone consideration. Only bills listed for studies would be expected.

Among the bills to be preserved are a half dozen measures pending before the House Finance Committee.

ROTARY SPEAKER — Dr. Robert G. Smith was the principal speaker at Circleville Rotary Thursday noon. He told of his experiences as a volunteer surgeon in Vietnam this summer.

Truck Crashes, Beer Flows Out

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Beer flowed in a creek alongside the Reading Railroad in suburban Plymouth Meeting Thursday.

It got there when a tractor-trailer loaded with 600 cases and 100 half-barrels of the brew was struck by a 63-car freight train.

Truck driver Charles Kainath, 64, of Norristown, Pa., was not injured, police reported.

Those bills include one providing for construction of a new state office building on the site of the present Statehouse annex or elsewhere.

The bill would permit the Ohio Building Authority to issue revenue bonds to build the facility and to decide where it should be located.

Another proposes a constitutional amendment to eliminate the present $750,000 state debt limit and provide limited authority for issuing highway and capital improvement bonds by the legislature.

New Opera Group Set for Tour

By MARY CAMPBELL
NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera National Company, for two seasons just past, gave young American singers a chance to learn their business without going to Europe and it gave American in some 70 cities a chance to attend opera. But it also lost whopping sums of money and last December the parent Met decided to stop the music. With the mighty Met giving up, it looked as if no one else would try to round up financing and bookings, rehearsal time and space, singers, musicians and production staff to create a company to replace the Met National Company. But someone has—Miss Sarah Caldwell of Boston.

The Met worked for a year before its touring company made its debut. Miss Caldwell, working only since February, sends the new America National Opera Company out this month. Its first stop will be Indianapolis on Sept. 15.

In Boston she's considered an indefatigable miracle worker. She started the Boston Opera Group 10 years ago, at age 31, with $5,000 donated by interested Bostonians. She lost $20,000 the first year. But the onetime violin prodigy, native of Maryville, Mo., and graduate of the New England Conservatory, combines money-raising ability and knowledge and love of opera with optimism and daring.

Today, her finger in every part of the production pie, her Opera Company of Boston draws 9,000 subscribers and praise from music critics who travel from all over the country to attend productions like last season's American premiere of Arnold Schoenberg's "Moses and Aron" and a mod staging of Igor Stravinsky's "The Rake's Progress."

Instead of touring all season, the new company will tour in the fall in the East, Midwest and South, booked by Sol Hurok, spend midwinter in Boston performing and rehearsing two additional operas and tour again in the spring, only then going all the way to the West Coast. They'll probably also get to about 70 cities, but only to one of three performances in each, which should draw more sell-out houses than the week or more the Met National Company sometimes played in a city.

In choosing operas, Miss Caldwell has decided to go forth with stronger and less familiar stuff than usually shown on the road—such as "Falstaff" and "Lulu," the latter sexy and atonal.

Unlike the Met National Company, not all the singers in the new touring company will be beginners. Since they all were hired so late, some will have to slip in and out of the company, fulfilling other singing commitments.

But like the Met National Company, the American National Opera will have two or three singers who aren't Americans.

Ancient Indian Tools Found by Workmen
TIBURON, Calif. (AP) — Construction workers on the Tiburon peninsula may have uncovered a 3,000-year-old dump.

David Frederickson, an anthropology professor, said the site contains beads, charmones, spear points, volcanic glass and bone tools discarded by Indians centuries ago.

No Funds Available, Draft Exams Delayed
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Preinduction physical examinations for the month of September were suspended in Missouri for lack of funds.

Col. R. E. McCain, state manpower officer, said the draft call was being met with class 1A men who already passed their physicals.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read you Bible daily.

TAKE ME, DADDY

Little arms reach up. I stoop and lift the precious weight of baby son into my arms and smell his sweetness. Prayers of praise and thanks fill my heart.

Cuddling him close, I remember the night of his birth when Mary and I were told that our baby could not live until daybreak. How we prayed in those early morning hours, holding hands and clinging fast to our belief that God in His goodness would spare our son. How grateful we were for the courage and strength God's love and nearness supplied. How glad we were for the Church where we had learned to love and worship the God who gives us all life.

Do you wonder that Sunday morning finds us both in church joyfully worshipping and giving thanks to God?

Attend the church of your choice. Whatever your need, it stands ready to help.

Pickaway Sports Perspective

By STEVE JONES

The curtain raises tonight on one of the greatest forms of entertainment in the country — high school athletics.

Football teams throughout the county and the state begin the sports scene on the high school level tonight.

The football season blends into basketball and there is only a short break between the cage sport and the traditional spring sports of track, baseball and golf.

Along with football there is the cross country season for many schools while wrestling gains a share of the spectators during the winter.

There is no greater thrill for the dedicated high school sports fan than seeing the kid next door race for a touchdown or score a crucial basket or knock a homerun when it's most needed.

Circleville High School has its share of dedicated fans, beginning with the veteran of them all, Lawrence (Speeder) Davis. Davis claims to have missed only one football game since he graduated from high school 41 years ago.

He has seen every grid game the Tigers played since Oct. 14, 1932, the night his father died.

Lee Smith is another faithful Tiger follower, having seen every football game since the last game of the 1947 season.

When football season rolls around, the entire town turns out to watch the Tigers play. Clyde England, another faithful follower, misses few CHS home games, traveling from Bexley to see his favorites play.

Two of Pickaway County's greatest fans are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lane.

The retired Circleville Twp. clerk and his wife can be seen not only at Circleville games but at almost every other school in the county throughout the year.

High school athletes lack the finesse and the high school teams lack the perfection of execution that professional sports exhibit.

But the pros cannot begin to match the thrill of seeing your son, nephew, grandson or the kid next door perform on the athletic field.

Bowling News

By DAVE OLNEY

The bowling season will be in full swing at Prairie Lanes by next week.

Already teams and leagues have started competition. One of the largest family sports in the nation, there will be over 750 individuals involved in some sort of team competition at Prairie Lanes this year.

In leagues that have already started, Louise Mathews converted four splits in one game in the Roundtowners League. Marge Olney's single of 211 and series of 573 are the highest scores posted.

In the same league, Mina Van Fossen converted the difficult 3-7-10 split this week.

Top pin counts of the week have come in the Thursday Industrial League, where Bill Hammond rolled a high single game of 272 and Nolan Sims Jr. rolled a high series of 703.

Thompson Mercury posted team totals of 1,057 and 2,991.

The Prairie Dogs League action was topped by Dud Radcliff's high single of 203. Glenn Hunter rolled a 546 series in the league. Tommy's Potato Chips was the top team with scores of 871 and 2,459.

Jim McConnell's single game of 241 and series of 682 were the bright spots in the DuPont League.

With the beginning of the bowling season, the snack bar at Prairie Lanes has been reopened. For a pleasant afternoon or evening of relaxing exercise, bring the family and bowl.

40 Entries In Cox Event At Lansdowne

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce has accepted 40 entries already for the Cox Memorial Tournament at Upper Lansdowne Sunday.

According to Dr. H. H. Shuttleworth, at least twice that many additional entries are expected on the day of the tournament.

Already entered in the event are Bruce Helwagen, golf champion of the Pickaway Country Club, his brother Steve, and the brothers of Omar Cox, in whose honor the tourney was named.

Trophies will be given to first and second place finishers in each of three flights. Shuttleworth announced today. A cash award will be given to third place in each flight.

$31,200 in Purses Attract Top Horses to Scioto Downs

Purses totaling $31,200 have attracted the finest trotters and pacers in the country to Scioto Downs Friday and Saturday.

Highlighting the racing programs are the $4,000 Invitational Trot Friday night, the $4,000 Invitational Pace and the $3,000 Invitational for three and four year old pacers Saturday.

Dick Buxton, the young veteran reinsman from Urbana, who captured both feature invitational last week with La Belle Helene and Jerry Gauman returns again this week.

La Belle Helene, a 5-year-old gray daughter of Florican, had only one victory in 13 starts up to last week. She defeated Interloper by a head in 2:03 1-5.

Venture Gal, the five-time invitational winner, owned by Joe Burke of Washington, C. H., comes back in the Friday feature.

Curly Smart will attempt to get the speedy Helen's Adonis back on the winning track. In last week's trotting feature Smart had the 4-year-old son of Speedster on the outside and winging home when he made a break. It was only his second loss in eight starts this year.

Honor Guest will score from the rail and will be followed by Virgine's Lady Plaid, and Storm-edor, to round out the select trotting field.

Saturday night Short John, the two-time invitational winner will take on Bye Time, Hideaway Pat, David Hudson, James E. Miss Red Lion, and a newcomer to the invitational ranks, Royal Adios from the Brad Far-ington stable.

Short John, owned by John Haignere, and driven by Dennis Reed, posted two straight wins in 2:00 3-5 and 2:04, before being defeated by the great Peppy Releo and Jerry Gauman.

Hideaway Pat, owned by Harlow Arledge of Circleville, with the talented Dick Brandt up has a mile mark of 2:00 4-5. Bye Time under the crafty hands of George Ursitti, owns a mile mark of 2:01 1-5, and is always a threat. David Hudson with Johnny Winner up will always challenge with his record 2:02 1-5, and Miss Red Lion has been clocked in 1:59 4-5 this year. James E will have the services of Scioto's leading driver, Bill Herman, and the handsome 5-year-old roan stallion has three wins and two seconds in only seven starts this year.

Royal Adios has been the terror of Latonia Raceway, and his record of 2:02 4-5 there makes him a top contender over Scioto's fast racing strip. Six bristling contenders will move in behind the gate in the $3,000 Invitational for three and four year pacers. Fans will have trouble picking a favorite from the field including Jerry Gauman, Sugar Tree, Castle Knight, Hodgen's Special, Royal Bye Bye, and Ahoy.

Jerry Gauman, the sophomore son of Jerry Way, owned by Neil Helfrich of Washington C. H., posted a victory in 2:00 1-5 and last Saturday night defeated a field of older horses.

Sugar Tree has raced well all season for Curly Smart and has a mile mark of 2:00 1-5. Castle Knight won three straight at Sportsman's Park in Chicago, and one of those was in 2:01 4-5. Hodgen's Special will have Frank Hess in the sulky, and his record of 2:03 1-5 over an off track means trouble for his opponents Saturday night. Royal Bye Bye with Fred Bach in the sulky is the only 4-year-old in the field, and the more experienced son of Bye Bye Byrd has a record of 2:02 2-5 at Lexington, Ky. to back up his challenge. Bob Taylor will go with Ahoy.

A five-eighths of a mile dash for a purse of $1,500 is one of the nine outstanding events on Saturday night's racing program.

Good Field Set In Pro-Amateur

CINCINNATI (AP) — One of the greatest fields the annual Pro-Amateur Championship here has ever offered will tackle Losantville Country Club's rolling 6,500 yard par-70 course this weekend.

Eighty teams led by top professionals including Bobby Nichols, Sam Snead, Frank Beard and many others will be competing for the $4,000 first prize.

The team of Nichols, a former PGA Tournament champ, and Jim Schloss of Losantville will return to defend their championship title in the 36-hole tournament Saturday and Sunday.

Giants Get Van Horn

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants announced Thursday the conditional purchase of offensive lineman Doug Van Horn from the Detroit Lions in a National Football League waiver transaction.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

ARTHRITIS TOURNEY — The team of, from the left, Marsha Moore, Miriam Young and Caroline Champion won the recent Arthritis Tourney held at the Pickaway Country Club. The runner-up team was composed of Mary Carpenter, Hester Weldon and Dottie Foster. The tournament benefits the Central Ohio Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation. Funds are used for transportation, self-help devices, occupational and recreational therapy.

Cleveland Rookies Set for Action

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Indians' Manager Joe Adcock will use three rookies when the Tribe meets the Kansas City Athletics tonight in the first of a three-game series.

Catcher Ray Foosse and outfielders Richie Scheinblum and Jose Vidal, all recently recalled from the Tribe's Port-land farm club, will see action. Also, pitcher Steve Bailey is likely to get a start against the Athletics.

Stan Williams (5-3) will start tonight against John Odum (3-7).

After the series with Kansas City, Cleveland travels to Chicago for two games against the White Sox, who are in the thick of the American League pennant race.

The Tribe has a strong supporter in the White Sox series—

Minnesota Twins Manager Carl Ermer.

After the Indians split a four game series with the Twins, Ermer said: "I hope Adcock plays Chicago the same way he played us."

"He saved his best pitchers for us, knocked our hitters down and played for keeps," Ermer said.

Pickaway Sports Perspective

By STEVE JONES

The curtain raises tonight on one of the greatest forms of entertainment in the country — high school athletics.

Football teams throughout the county and the state begin the sports scene on the high school level tonight.

The football season blends into basketball and there is only a short break between the cage sport and the traditional spring sports of track, baseball and golf.

Along with football there is the cross country season for many schools while wrestling gains a share of the spectators during the winter.

There is no greater thrill for the dedicated high school sports fan than seeing the kid next door race for a touchdown or score a crucial basket or knock a homerun when it's most needed.

Circleville High School has its share of dedicated fans, beginning with the veteran of them all, Lawrence (Speeder) Davis. Davis claims to have missed only one football game since he graduated from high school 41 years ago.

He has seen every grid game the Tigers played since Oct. 14, 1932, the night his father died.

Lee Smith is another faithful Tiger follower, having seen every football game since the last game of the 1947 season.

When football season rolls around, the entire town turns out to watch the Tigers play. Clyde England, another faithful follower, misses few CHS home games, traveling from Bexley to see his favorites play.

Two of Pickaway County's greatest fans are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lane.

The retired Circleville Twp. clerk and his wife can be seen not only at Circleville games but at almost every other school in the county throughout the year.

High school athletes lack the finesse and the high school teams lack the perfection of execution that professional sports exhibit.

But the pros cannot begin to match the thrill of seeing your son, nephew, grandson or the kid next door perform on the athletic field.

Columbus Shut Out On One Hit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The hitting of Jim Beauchamp and Steve Demeter and the pitching of Julio Navarro and Tom Arruda have boosted the Richmond Braves and the Rochester Red Wings closer to another meeting in the International League's Governor's Cup Playoff final series.

Beauchamp hit two home runs, one a grand slammer, and Navarro pitched a five-hitter as the regular season champion Braves routed the Toledo Mud Hens 10-1 Thursday night for a 2-0 lead in their best-of-5 semi-final series.

Demeter drove in all three runs to back up Arruda's brilliant one-hitter as the Red Wings turned back the Columbus Jets 3-0 and evened their best-of-5 series at a victory apiece.

The only hit off Arruda was Cotton Clayton's bouncer over second in the fourth inning.

40 Entries In Cox Event At Lansdowne

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce has accepted 40 entries already for the Cox Memorial Tournament at Upper Lansdowne Sunday.

According to Dr. H. H. Shuttleworth, at least twice that many additional entries are expected on the day of the tournament.

Already entered in the event are Bruce Helwigen, golf champion of the Pickaway Country Club, his brother Steve, and the brothers of Omar Cox, in whose honor the tourney was named.

Trophies will be given to first and second place finishers in each of three flights. Shuttleworth announced today. A cash award will be given to third place in each flight.

Jerry Gauman, the sophomore son of Jerry Way, owned by Neil Helfrich of Washington C. H., posted a victory in 2:00 1-5 and last Saturday night defeated a field of older horses.

Sugar Tree has raced well all season for Curly Smart and has a mile mark of 2:00 1-5. Castle Knight won three straight at Sportsman's Park in Chicago, and one of those was in 2:01 4-5. Hodgen's Special will have Frank Hess in the sulky, and his record of 2:03 1-5 over an off track means trouble for his opponents Saturday night. Royal Bye Bye with Fred Bach in the sulky is the only 4-year-old in the field, and the more experienced son of Bye Bye Byrd has a record of 2:02 2-5 at Lexington, Ky. to back up his challenge. Bob Taylor will go with Ahoy.

A five-eighths of a mile dash for a purse of $1,500 is one of the nine outstanding events on Saturday night's racing program.

Good Field Set In Pro-Amateur

CINCINNATI (AP) — One of the greatest fields the annual Pro-Amateur Championship here has ever offered will tackle Losantiville Country Club's rolling 6,500 yard par-70 course this weekend.

Eighty teams led by top professionals including Bobby Nichols, Sam Snead, Frank Beard and many others will be competing for the $4,000 first prize.

The team of Nichols, a former PGA Tournament champ, and Jim Schloss of Losantiville will return to defend their championship title in the 36-hole tournament Saturday and Sunday.

Giants Get Van Horn

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants announced Thursday the conditional purchase of offensive lineman Doug Van Horn from the Detroit Lions in a National Football League waiver transaction.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

ARTHRITIS TOURNEY — The team of, from the left, Marsha Moore, Miriam Young and Caroline Champion won the recent Arthritis Tournament held at the Pickaway Country Club. The runner-up team was composed of Mary Carpenter, Hester Weldon and Dottie Foster. The tournament benefits the Central Ohio Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation. Funds are used for transportation, self-help devices, occupational and recreational therapy.

Cleveland Rookies Set for Action

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Indians' Manager Joe Adcock will use three rookies when the Tribe meets the Kansas City Athletics tonight in the first of a three-game series.

Catcher Ray Fosse and outfielders Richie Scheinblum and Jose Vidal, all recently recalled from the Tribe's Portland farm club, will see action. Also, pitcher Steve Bailey is likely to get a start against the Athletics.

Stan Williams (5-3) will start tonight against John Odom (3-7).

After the series with Kansas City, Cleveland travels to Chicago for two games against the White Sox, who are in the thick of the American League pennant race.

The Tribe has a strong supporter in the White Sox series—

IMMEDIATE POSSESSION — Atwater School district, exceptionally nice condition — three bedroom ranch, light and bright living room, built-in kitchen, with dining area, spacious dining L opening onto patio, bath and half, one car attached garage, full dry basement. Look at your convenience.

IT IS A — home, but see for yourself the additions added to the basic house, such as 4' on living and bedrooms, 2' on kitchen, plus additional cabinet space, 2' on garage, making it 2 1/2 car, finished lower level, plus dug out crawl space converted into laundry room, plus work shop. Complete landscaping to minimum amount of upkeep. This home is vacant and ready for your appraisal.

A rare item — four bedrooms 2 1/2 bath ranch on corner lot. Double garage and basement, dry and very useful. This property is vacant and good possession can be arranged. Well located for GE family.

Just starting out and want your own home, lets investigate a smaller home, three bedrooms, large kitchen, utility room, enclosed porch, fenced yard, partial basement. Under $7500.

Time is short if you are interested in locating your family in an established neighborhood. An attractive bi-level with three bedrooms, 2 baths, separate dining room, large family room, two car attached garage. This shouldn't last long.

We're ready to deal — a very comfortable one floor plan on Walnut Creek Pike, three bedrooms, w/b fireplace in living room, separate dining L, handicap of kitchens, complete basement and workshop area, attached garage. 100 x 180 lot on school bus route.

Laurelville — 54 acres, bottom land, pasture, woodland, stream crosses property. Modern two story home in good condition. Scenic living area and on hard top road.

Mill Street Double — easily rented and price reduced. Close to schools and downtown, why not call for more particulars.

Eva Drive — it is a well constructed home, three bedrooms, bright and cheery living room, built-in kitchen, complete bath and basement. Let's look.

Suspecting Legislators Probe Shotguns, Yacht

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 22 shotguns allocated to Iran under the military assistance program are for riot control, not hunting or clay pigeon shooting, U.S. officials insist. And suspicious congressmen were told the converted seaplane tender turned over to Ethiopia and maintained at $80,000 a year by the United States is a training ship for the Ethiopian navy, not a yacht for Emperor Haile Selassie.

But it does have wallpaper—about $124 worth.

These items got a prolonged going-over at closed hearings of a House Appropriations subcommittee April 5. The Censored testimony was made public today.

Defending the allocations was Vice Adm. L. C. Heinz, director of military assistance.

Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., observed that 20 shotguns have been delivered to Iran in the past 17 years and two more are included in the current budget. "We delivered 16,000 rounds of ammunition for those shotguns, and they are asking for 5,000 shotgun shells in this budget," Conte said. "That is 21,000 rounds of shotgun shells for 20 shotguns. That covers a lot of clay pigeons. Their shoulders must be black and blue."

But Heinz quickly put in that the Iranian Gendarmes—"less than an army and more than a police"—has other shotguns and the ammunition is for all of them.

Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., suggested, "So we won't become bored, let's sidetrack a bit: What is some of the game they have out there? They have quail and dove, do they not?"

"I do not admit that there was any diversion," Heinz replied. In a moment, however, Conte had him in a discussion of U.S. Air Force training using shotguns. This target practice, Conte drew from Heinz, uses clay pigeons.

"That is good enough," Passman said, and the questioning went on.

Heinz: "This is not diversion, I say this is training."

The shotguns were described as "riot type, 12-gauge, 20-inch barrel."

Jackson-Vinton Group To Get Federal Money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Funds totaling $287,285 for the Community Action Organization of Delaware, Madison and Union counties were among six federal grant approved Thursday by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The tri-county group received $190,441 to establish service centers for the poor and $59,953 to operate its Marysville headquarters.

Other grants included: $96,844 in legal aid funds for a program of the Youngstown Area Community Action Council.

$45,155 for a dental care and education program of Jackson-Vinton Community Action, Inc., in Wellston.

$30,707 to the Jackson-Vinton group for administrative expenses.

Mushroom Eaters
Ousted from Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Ministry of the Interior said Thursday night 36 Americans who established headquarters in a remote village of the state of Oaxaca to consume hallucinatory mushrooms have been ousted from the country in the past two days.

A spokesman from the ministry said the hippies had been slowly concentrating during the last few months in Huatla de Jimenez, in Mexico's southern state of Oaxaca, where some of the best magic mushrooms are cropped.

SPLITTING THE SCENE—Rich and poor, old and young through a Mexican divorce court in Juarez to beat the deadline for obtaining "quickie" divorces. Mostly New Yorkers, they are seeking to sever their bonds before a New York law goes into effect on Sept. 1. That law will not recognize Mexican divorces.

OU To Get $739,000 From State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board released $739,396 for Ohio University projects Thursday, but delayed action on a bigger request pending reports from the Athens school and the Ohio Public Works Department.

The university was given $639,664 in reappropriated funds for a new library and $199,732 for the first phase of a new science complex.

But before granting $3.4 million in capital improvement funds for a $4 million education television and theater building on the OU campus, the board said it wanted assurance that the money would be enough to complete the project.

Other money for the project would include $388,000 in federal funds and $116,000 in university funds.

The board also released $184,000 for channel improvements in the Rocky River Harbor near Cleveland.

Central State University was given $50,000 to plan a new administration building.

Cleveland Thieves Get Navajo Jewelry

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police and FBI agents are investigating the theft of 16 pieces of Navajo jewelry valued at more than $5,000, from the Cleveland Museum of Art.

A museum spokesman said the silver rings, necklaces and bracelets were part of the museum's extension collection, kept in a large, wall-mounted case in a classroom. The room had not been used for classes since July 28, and a museum spokesman said it was not known when the jewelry was taken. The theft was discovered this week.

Priest Prefers Jazz Message

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Standing in the heat outside his church, the Rev. James Perrone calls to the children of Watts, and they come running, in droves.

The 39-year-old Roman Catholic priest, whom you might remember as Buddy James, gathers his flock in mellow tones emanating from an alto saxophone. He plays it with authority, and why not? For 10 years, he was a first rate sideman in some top bands.

"My whole approach with kids is using music as a kind of bridge," said Father Perrone. "It breaks down the initial tension of meeting with adults."

When he says music, he means jazz, which he plays with style and skill that remind the listener of Paul Desmond.

But for Father Perrone, jazz is merely the medium for his message: The Christian faith he toils to import to his audience, mostly Negro and Mexican-American children from this impoverished section of Los Angeles.

"God says we should use our talents and mine is this," But jazz for a priest?

"Many people are surprised that a musician should be a priest," said Father Perrone. "They connect it (jazz) with dope, alcohol and a bad life. What they forget is that there is good in everybody."

Besides, he added with a grin, "a lot of the older hymns don't seem to appeal to the youngsters."

Father Perrone came to St. Odilia's church in Watts only three months ago, but his

Wig, Not Cat, Lost by Jurist

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Justice Court Judge Filis Otto was driving along Marine View Drive in an open-top sports car when her wig flipped off and landed in a tree.

She said Thursday an unidentified policeman, parked near the tree looking for speeders, told her he would like to help her but he was afraid he would get scratched.

The officer apologized after the lady judge retrieved her own hair piece. He said he thought it was her cat.

Automation Streamlines Patent Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Patent Office has struggled for two decades just to keep its head above the mountain of paperwork generated by a growing army of inventors and gadget-makers.

Now methods have been streamlined, automation is coming into use and for the first time in years officials say the backlog of pending applications has dropped below 200,000.

A record 70,000 patents, the vast majority to Americans, were issued during the year which ended June 30. The figure is expected to go higher this year.

The big day in the Patent Office is Tuesday, when the "Official Gazette," a weekly book almost an inch thick and listing all new patents, is published by the office.

The Gazette has been a Tuesday ritual since 1872.

The newest issue contains patents for the most technical apparatus—and for an automatic shoe shine machine with black and brown polish, a tie clip design, a golf bag bottom and a surfboard cover designed, naturally, by a Californian.

In the first year of Patent Office operation—1790—three patents were issued. The current numbering system was adopted in 1836. A patent gives the inventor the right to exclude all others from making, using or selling his invention for 17 years.

During the last fiscal year 89,000 patent applications were filed, down from the record 93,000 of the previous year—before higher filing fees went into effect.

2 Persons Injured
In Cambridge Crash

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — Federal Aviation Administration officials today were investigating the cause of a light plane crash that injured two men near a Lore City airfield in Guernsey County Thursday.

State patrolmen said pilot Raynard Sellers of Cambridge and passenger John Bernosky of Waynesburg, Pa., were injured when the light plane crashed almost immediately after takeoff. Both men were hospitalized.

Slight Turnout Seen

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Election Board Director Frank Justin predicted Thursday that only 40 per cent of Toledo's voters will turn out for the city's primary and open housing referendum next Tuesday. Justin based his prediction on voter registrations for the last two months, which now total 146,000.

Cancer Institute Director 'Glad' He Stopped Smoking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of the National Cancer Institute has been off cigarettes for 23 days. And he admits woe, "I miss them very much."

But Dr. Kenneth M. Endicott adds: "I'm really glad that I stopped."

After smoking for 30 years—slightly more than a pack a day at the end—the cancer expert finally quit because "I was simply in an impossible position." Endicott was getting it from all sides.

At national symposiums and conferences on smoking and health, "people were just astonished that I smoked." Many got a big charge out of it.

Nor was the assistant surgeon general free from harassment at home.

His teen-age son and daughter, neither of whom smoke, "were carrying on a propaganda campaign" to get him to quit.

For smokers who go through less than half a pack a day, Endicott says, the health risks aren't much different than for nonsmokers.

Dr. Endicott had wanted to quit for years—and did three times before. But each time he took up pipe or cigars and soon was back to cigarettes. "I decided the best way for me to quit was to stop entirely," he explained in an interview.

It was seven years ago, when he became head of the Cancer Institute, that Endicott "really began to get sensitive" about his smoking.

Then, of course, there was the 1964 report by his boss, the surgeon general, that there is a link between smoking and lung cancer. That wasn't news to Endicott. He and his staff had known of the findings cited in the report for some time.

Recently, Endicott was confronted with another persuasive reason to quit: he developed a rough smoker's cough. At 51, he thought, "time may be running out on me."

He quit Aug. 16, the day before he announced at a news conference the formation of a 10-member lung cancer task force—and that he was head of it.
